YELLOW JACKET

GAIL POUND HR. 211

Gail,

I'm not a real "those dumb" jokes you come out with but one. I just pass them on. I think you are so cute and have beautiful clothes to match. I hope to become even better friends.

You're a very sweet and nice girl, Gail. Good luck

God Bless You,
Beverly Rogers

Gail,
Haven't it been a real good week? Ugh! It's raining. Ugh! It's raining. Ugh! It's raining.

Gail,
you are a "suave"
girl with a matching personlity. Stay that way always.
Love ya,
Carol Pinto

Gail,
I have enjoyed
having you in our "rocking" world history class. You're really a cool girl.
Tommy

To a real sweet girl but a very bad driver. may the best of life come your way.
God Bless You
Billy

Gail,
You're a real
dud. We had a lot of fun in
Chords last year
+ we've had a lot of fun this year. You're a real sweet and I wish I could remember jokes like you.
Donna

Gail,
It sure was a blast having you in my S.P. class
last fall. Just stay as sweet & nice as you are now and you will really go far.
Lots of luck
Bruce Johnson

Gail
Have fun this Summer and be a good girl. Stay out of swimming pools and keep away from air conditioners.
Love ya,

If any man can convince me . . . that I do not think or act aright, gladly will I change, for I search after truth, by which man never yet was harmed.

MARCUS AURELIUS

Gail,
You're a real cool girl with a stud personality. Be good and good luck
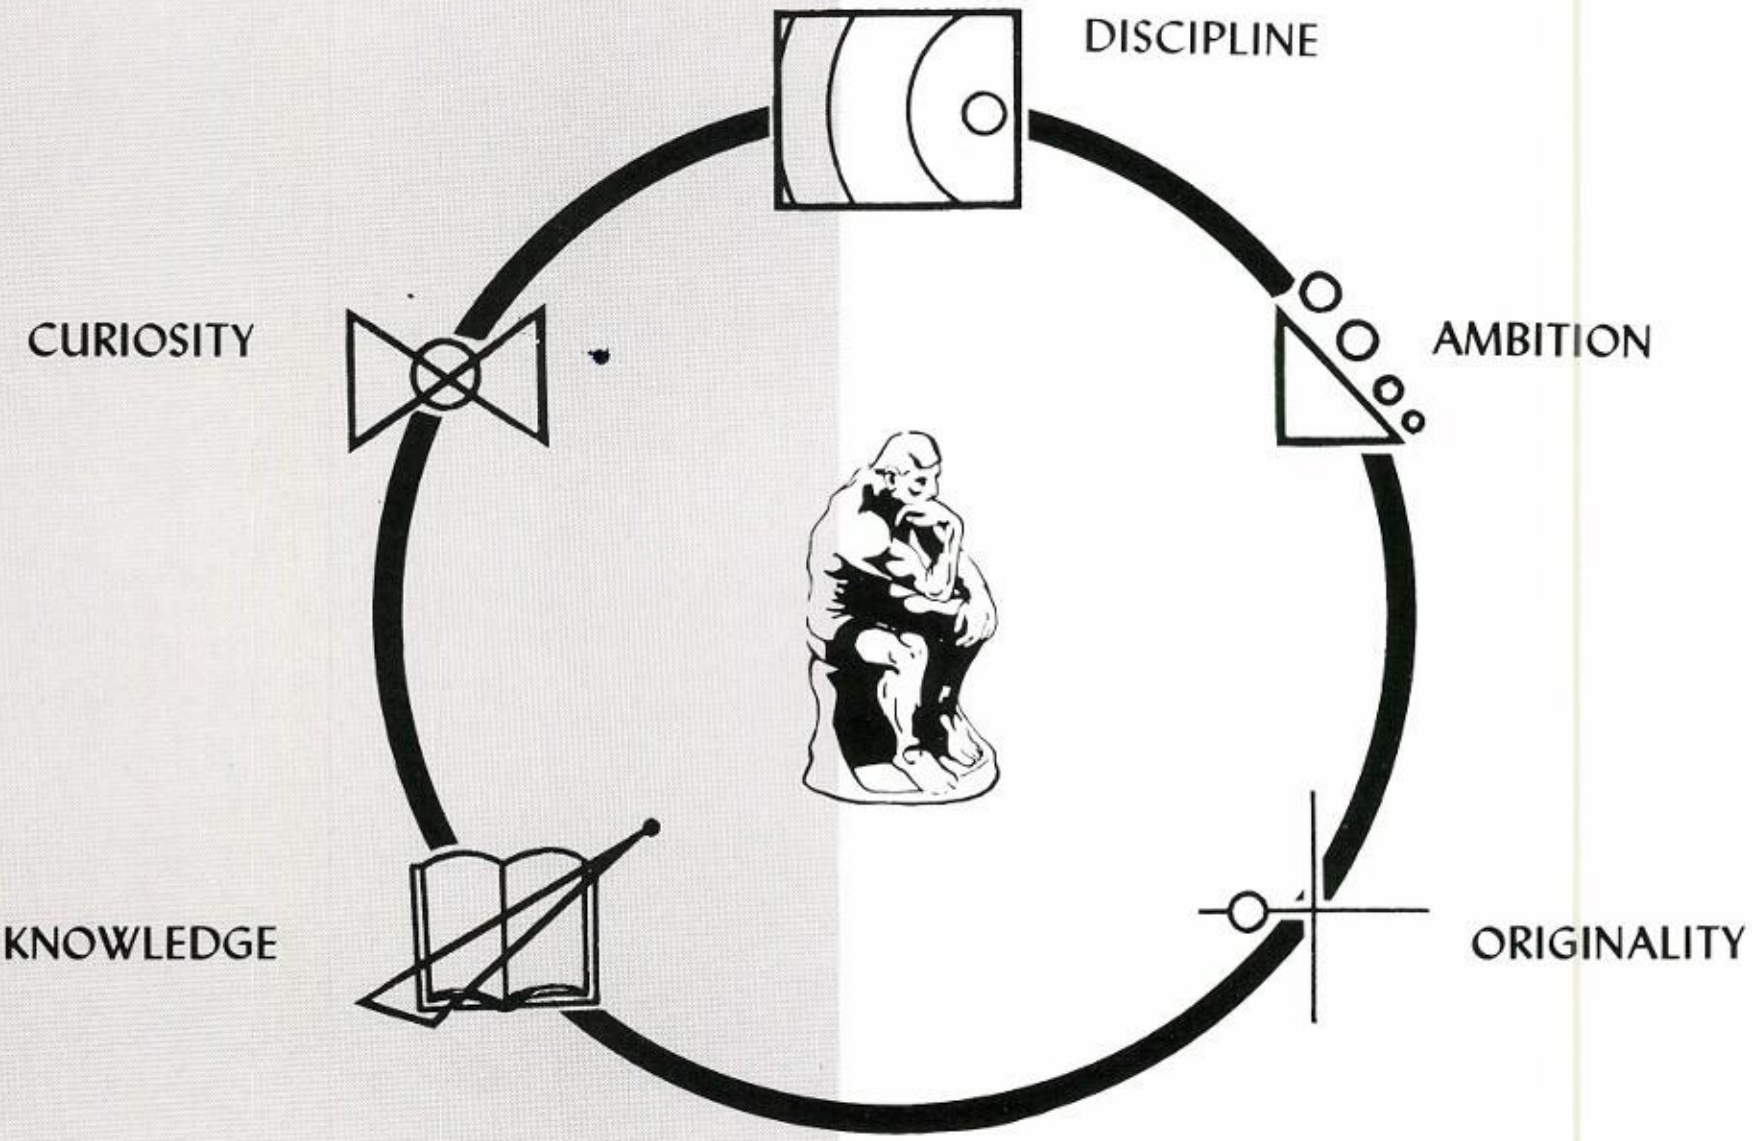
now and in years
to come,
Frank Sullivan

SEARCH FOR TRUTH

From the Mind of Man . . .



Truth stands before man, waiting to be revealed,
Yet veiled by a winding road
Navigable solely with these intangible instruments:

KNOWLEDGE, firm surface on which to travel

ORIGINALITY, imaginative spark that lights new ventures

AMBITION, inner force which hastens man toward his goal

DISCIPLINE, bridle of self-control that liberates his spirit

At the journey's end weary man,
Matured by life's disappointments,
Is still eager,
Yet aware of his incomplete knowledge.
In his dedication he is still in search of the truth.

For Truth,
Which is nothing less than Heaven's key,
Passes from Hand to hand.
What more is there to give value to man's existence—
Than his Search for Truth?

Gail
It's really fun having you in English. Keep that Humor!

Dedication

A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops

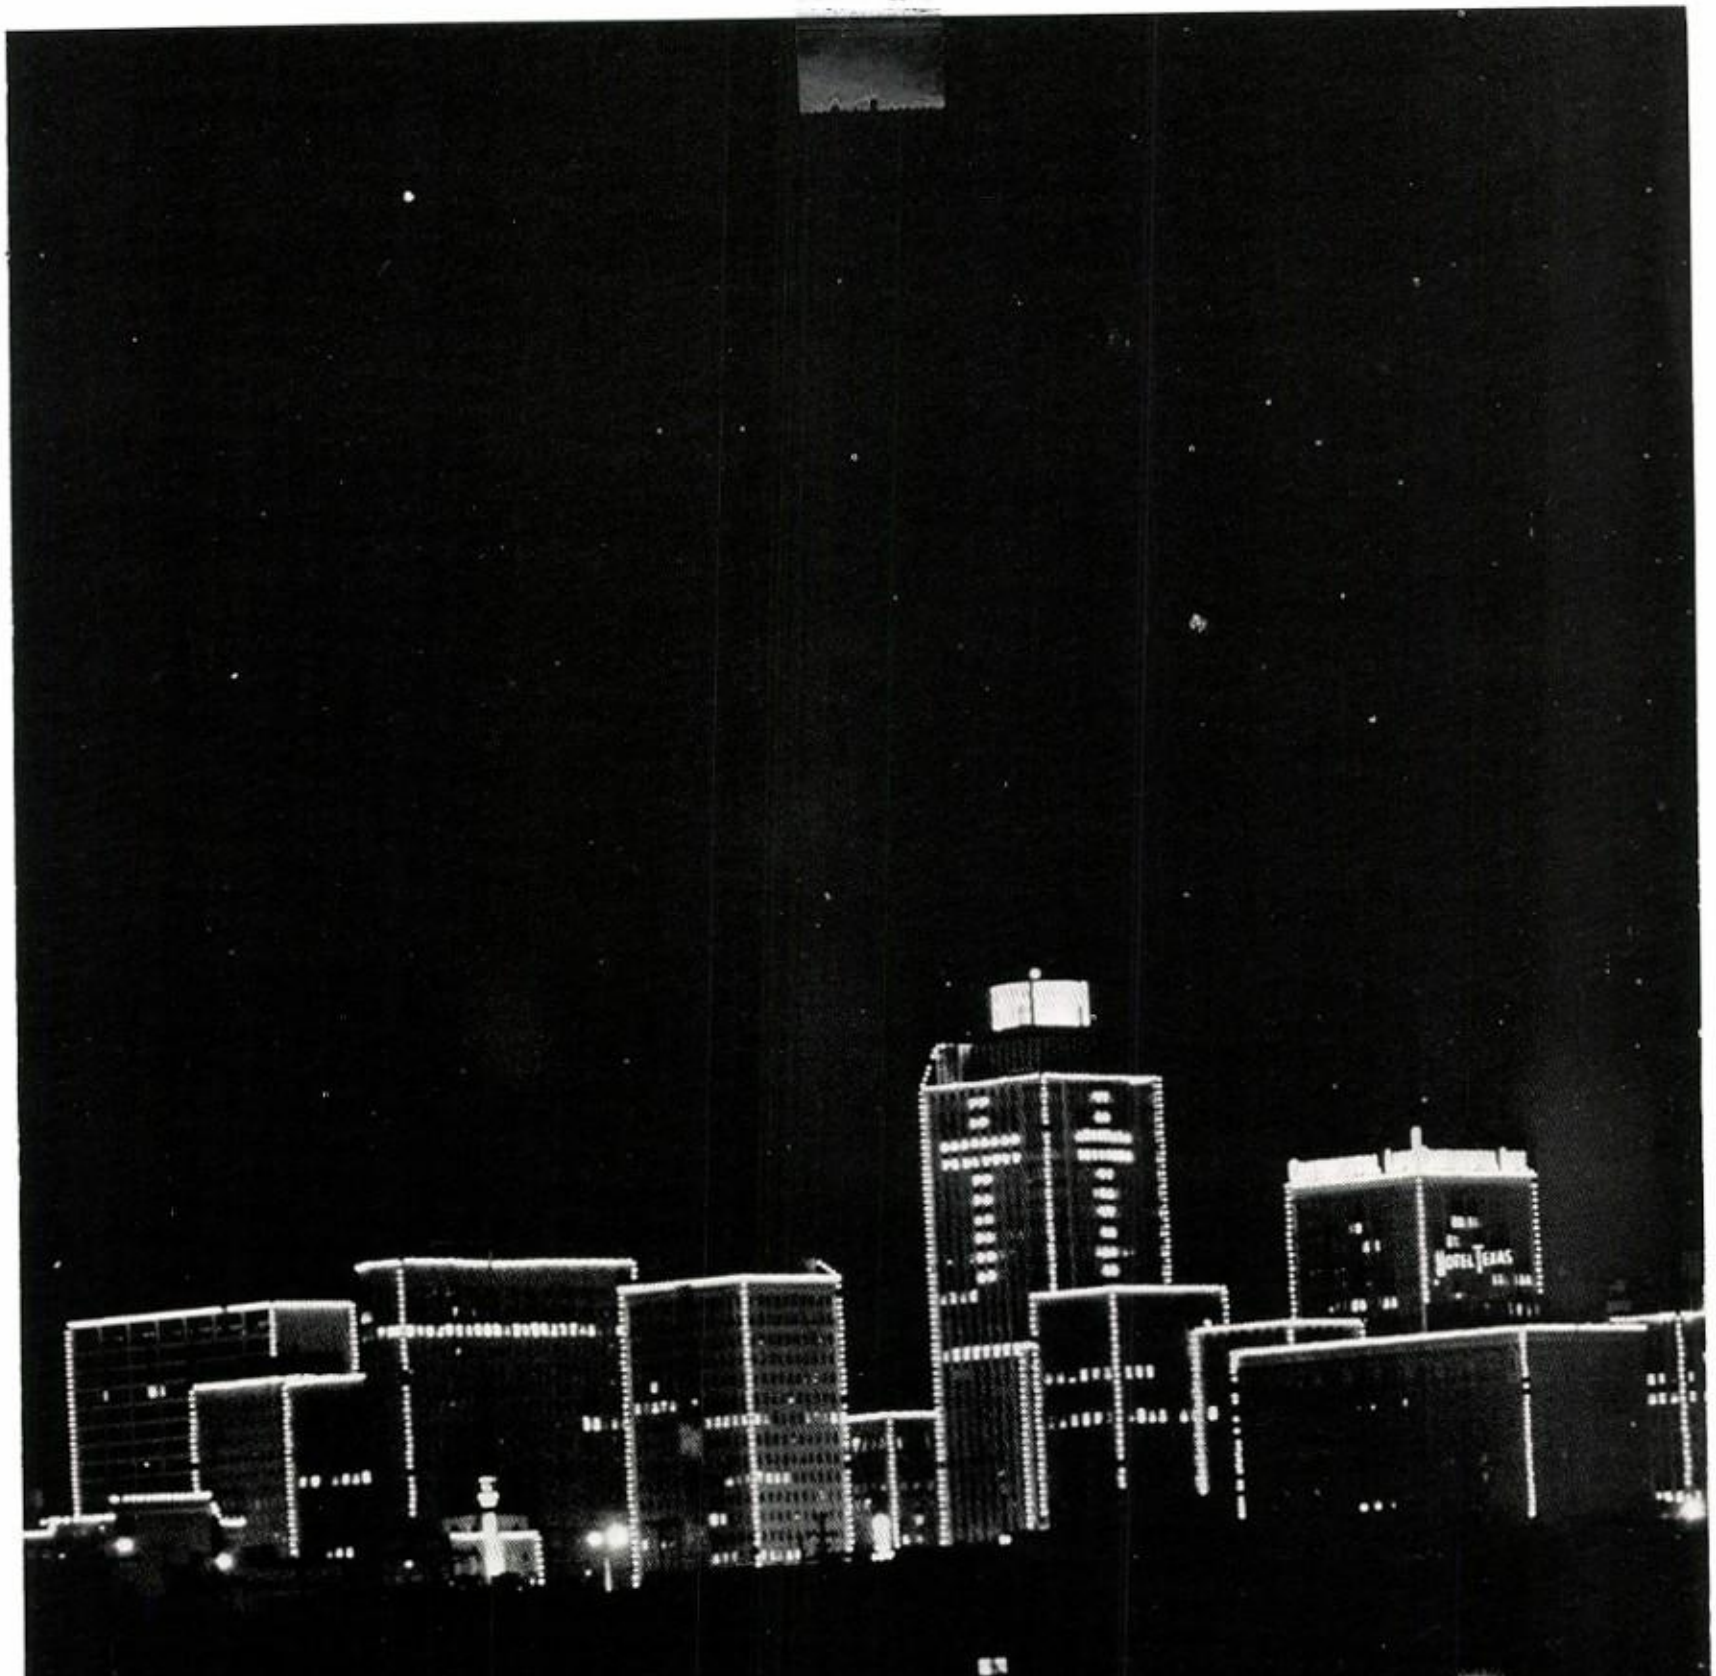
HENRY BROOKS ADAMS

A truly dedicated teacher bequeaths a portion of herself to her pupil. Her ideas and experiences become a legacy of learning from which her student gains inspiration and motivation for the rest of his life. Such a teacher is Mrs. Oleta Epps, English instructor and yearbook sponsor, to whom we dedicate the 1963 Yellow Jacket.

In the classroom Mrs. Epps grasps the mental hand of her pupil, guiding him through the portal of the world of literature, showing him how to profit from the messages of masters, humbly unaware of the power of her own words.

As yearbook sponsor she has elevated the standards for the Yellow Jacket, enabling the student body to benefit from her role in the birth of our book. Her enthusiasm and sincerity have created an unique bond within our staff which has increased the rewards of being a member.

With full realization and appreciation of her devotion to us, we dedicate the 1963 Yellow Jacket to our own Mrs. Oleta Epps.



The light of the city looms as a testimony to discoveries of past generations,

And a beacon in the night to those searching for new truths.

Knowledge, in truth, is the great sun in the firmament. Life and power are scattered with all its beams.

Liberal Arts

Four language, three history, and ten arts courses offer variety to the creative mind. One may advance through four years of ancient language or two to three years of a modern tongue. A firm political science background is instilled in world and American history, and government. Other liberal arts courses help prepare students for careers as artists, secretaries, wood and metal craftsmen, musicians, or home economists.

Science

Mental and physical discipline may be derived from a sincere study of mathematics, science, and physical education. One of the two in the city, an enriched physics class credits students with an advanced placement in college. A new arrangement in the physical education department provides for a division of students to allow each class to specialize in one particular sport.

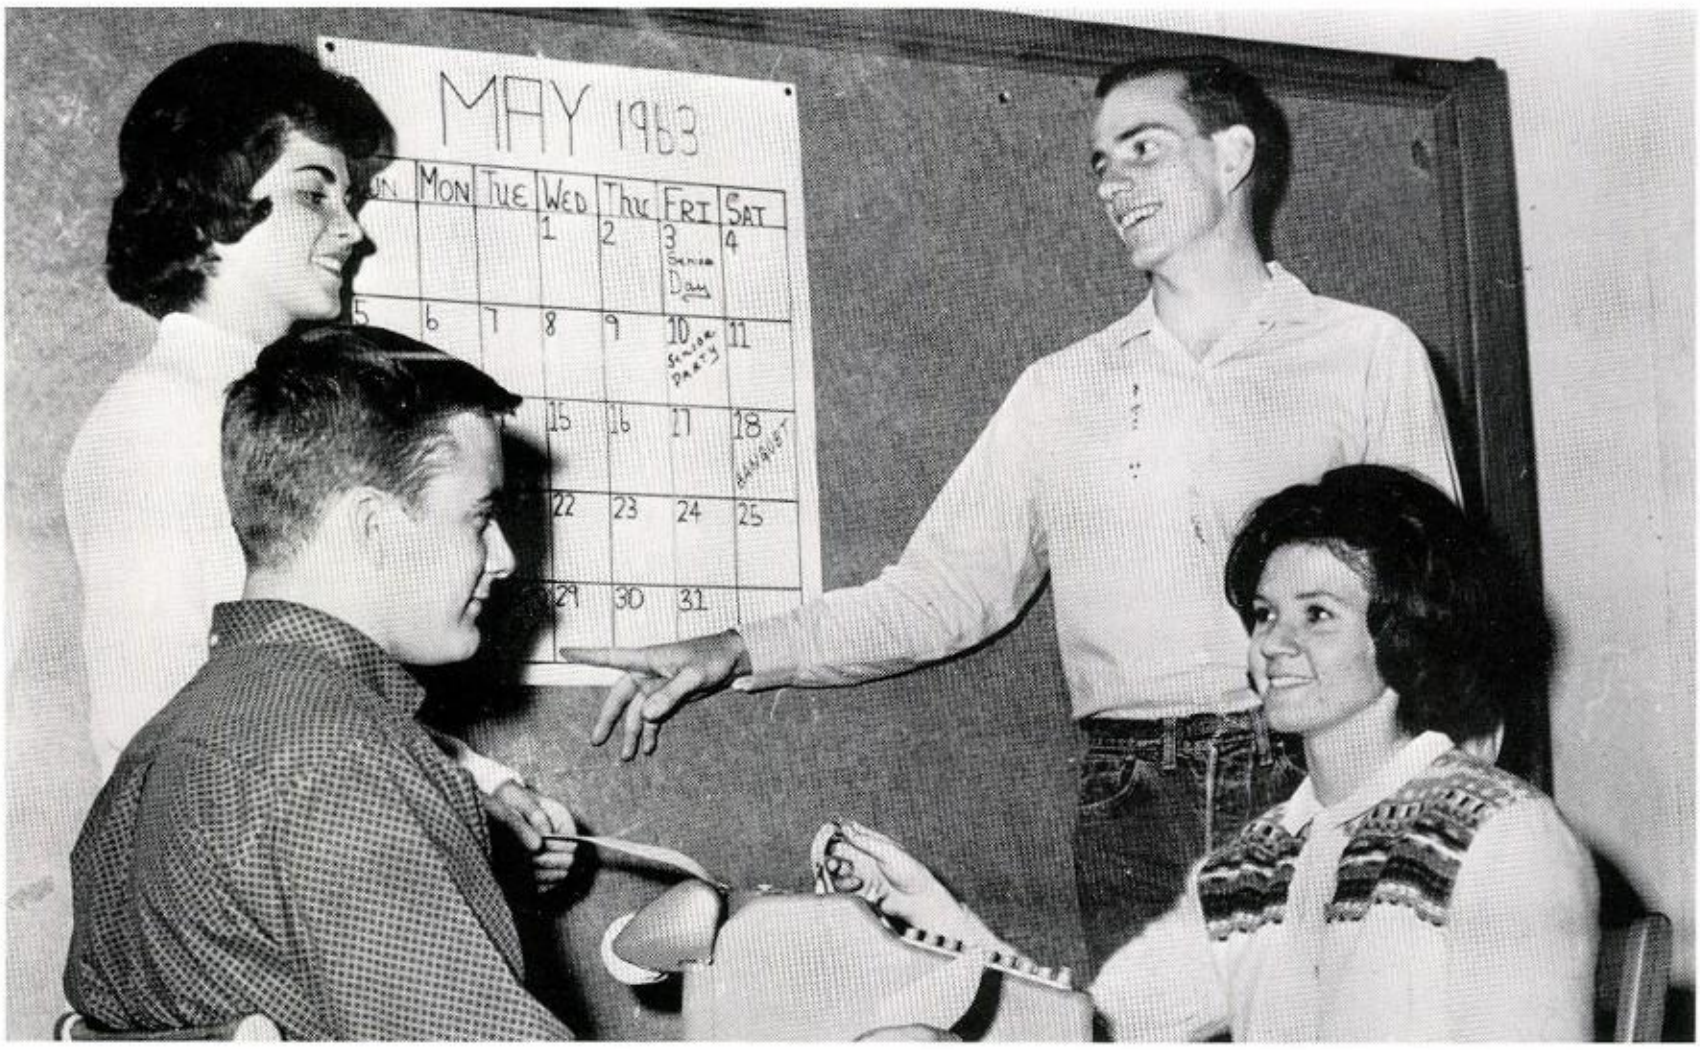
Stimulated by basic truths of life and eager to continue the quest for knowledge, SENIORS are ready to meet new challenges.

Dalton, Richards, Clark, Brants Lead 480 Seniors

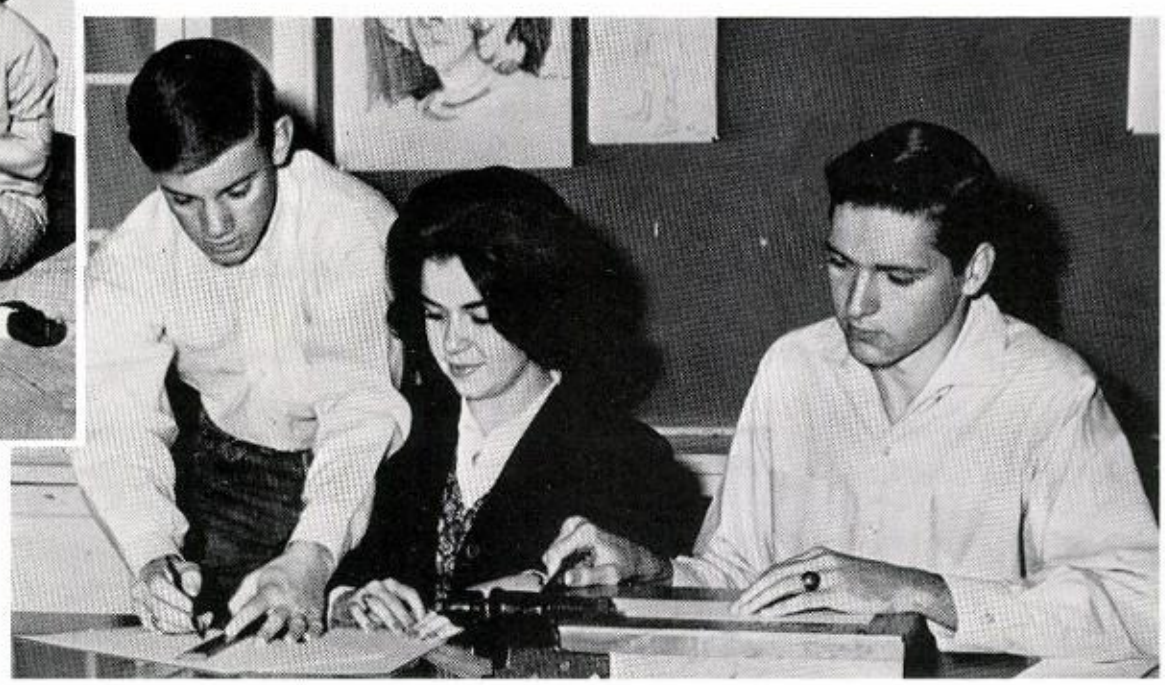


Checking magazine sales and looking forward to graduation night are Senior Class Officers Ann Clark, David Dalton, and (seated) John Richards, and Lucy Brants.

The entire Senior class elected class officers from nominations by each Senior homeroom. Officers are David Dalton, president; John Richards, vice-president; Ann Clark, secretary; Lucy Brants, treasurer.

With the help of the Senior Class sponsors, the officers take chargé of the annual magazine sales which finance the spring activities. They also plan for Senior Day, the party, banquet, and dance.

Seniors, Sharon Adams, John Hairston, and Priscilla Roe, shun sophistication donning ultra-casual clothes for the Senior picnic.



Making decorations for the upcoming banquet are Senior homeroom presidents Joe Pace, Ann McClure, and Dana Taylor.

Ambition is the spur that makes man struggle with destiny. It is heaven's own incentive to make purpose great and achievement greater.

Promotion Committee: "Come on, Larry, buy a ribbon. Where's your school spirit?" plead Marilyn Redwine, Linda Mulvihill, Helen Kelly, Vance Hobbs, Betty Buckley, and Chairman Lynn Melton to cheerleader Larry Worley.

Henderson

In his opening address to the student body, Jim Henderson pledges his support of school activities.

Decoration Committee: The task of selecting a Christmas tree fo Heightsters goes to Margo Wakeland, Mary Sargent, John William Larry Wilson, Janet Smith, Sally Potter, and Chairman Robin Woofte ewly elected student body officers seriously consider the responsibilities given them Assistant Principal John B. Sharp in his presentation speech.

Heads Council

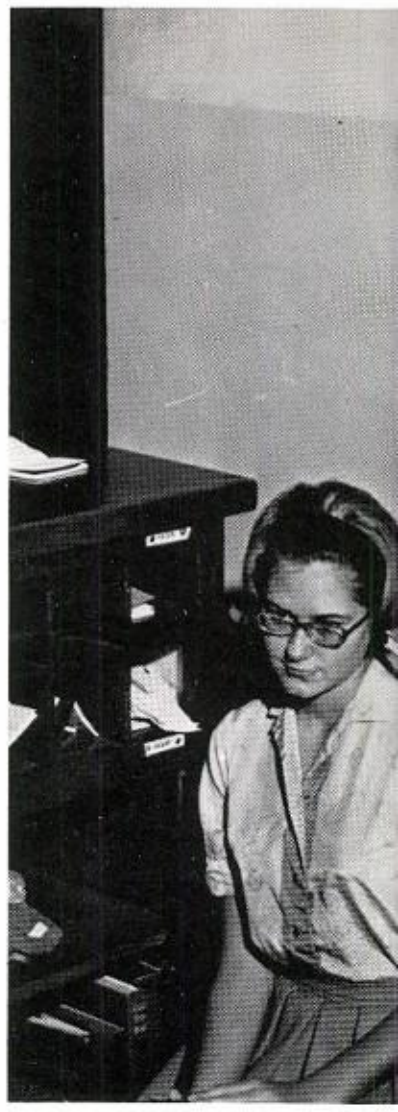
Elected by the student body, President Jim Henderson, Vice-president Marilyn Redwine, Secretary Lucy Brants, and Treasurer Suzanne Roberts head the 1962-63 student council. Officers and sponsors Mrs. Mary Tate and Mr. Nick Ruggieri guide the ten committees in the execution of their assigned duties.

A new innovation for 1963 is the Junior Ring Dance to celebrate the reception of senior rings.

Guiding the Student Council in its various projects are sponsors Mrs. Mary Tate and Mr. Nick Ruggieri.

Officers: President Jim Henderson, Vice-president Marilyn Redwine, Secretary Lucy Brants, and Treasurer Suzanne Roberts.

Hospitality Committee: Johnny Dalton, Dannye Dolan, George Clough, Margaret Hawkins, Roberta Richards, and Chairman Barbara Evans, greet new student Charlotte McGuire.



Claims Committee: Taking inventory of lost-and-found items are Susan Freeman; Barbara Folman; Linda Taylor; and Debbie Robbins, chairman.

Student Council

Committee

Handbook Committee: Admiring their project, the handbook presented free to all students, are Bill Jarrell, Jimmie De Wolfe, Anne Holmes, Kathi Herrity, Gary James, Sandra Bourland, Chairman Valerie Horton, and Henry Leopold.

Special Projects Committee: Chairmen Suzanne Newkirk and Bob Moriarty display a pennant which they and Terry Guerrant, Barbara Bailey, Ginger Washington, Debra McDaniel, Joe Leverich and Louis Cole were in charge of selling.

Program Committee: Bill Talbot, Garland Sorrells, Nancy Easley, Suzanne Rober and Anne Gillespie discuss program possibilities with Alan Neville, chairman.

Election Committee: Posting results of the "Mostest" Contest are Jay Hoecker, Chairman Peggy Botts, and Freda Kline.

Perform Special Services

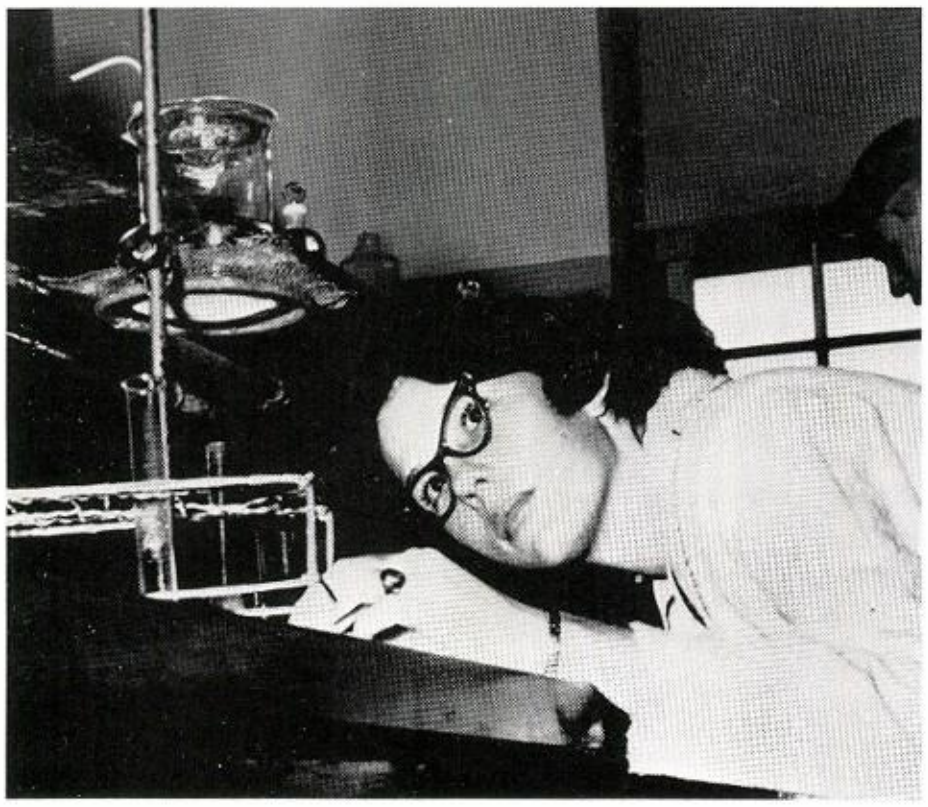
Student Council members, chosen by their homerooms, are assigned to committees upon election. These committees play a major role in homecoming decorations, student handbooks, the Open House, sale of decals and ribbons, and the annual Christmas tree.

This year the Council sponsored spirit patches and pennants in support of school athletics.

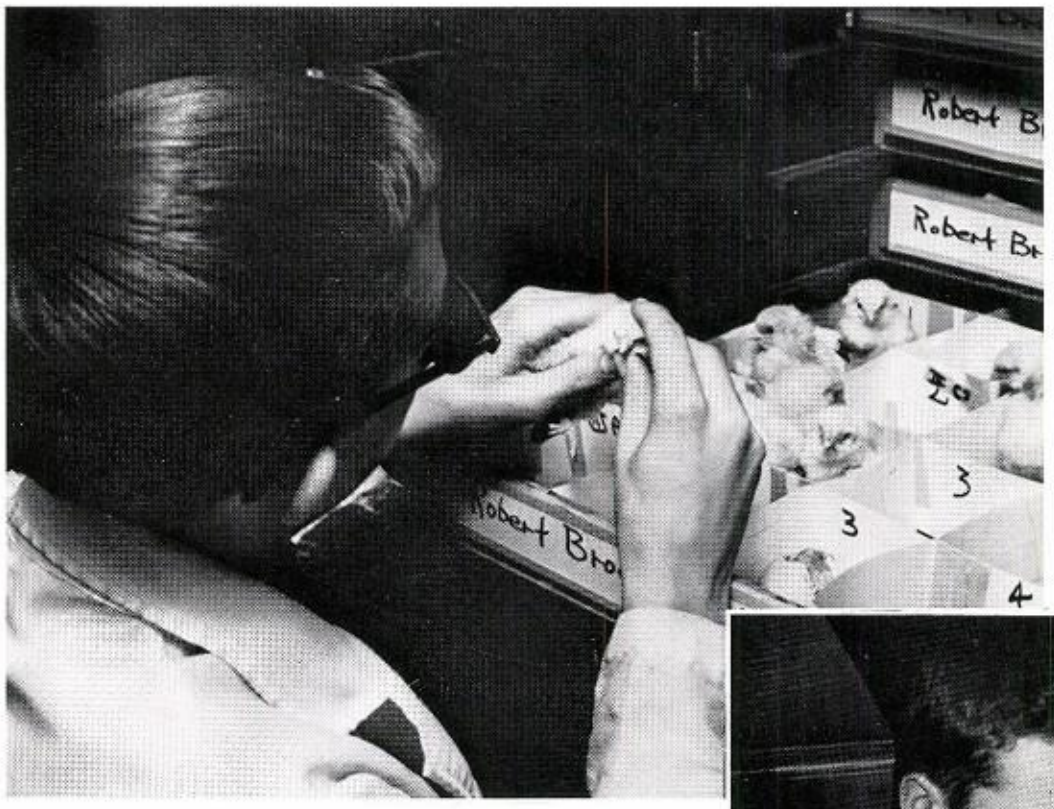
cial Committee: Counting tickets for the Junior Ring Dance are Chairman Marty ay, Phyllis Merrill, Mark Craig, Sammy Austin, Chairman Kaye Sommer, and artin Mastenbrook.

Flower and Card Committee: Checking absentee lists for recipients of get-well wishes are Laura McGarrah, Jovella Armstrong, and Co-chairmen Ann Garrett and Lucy Brants.

Researchers Prob

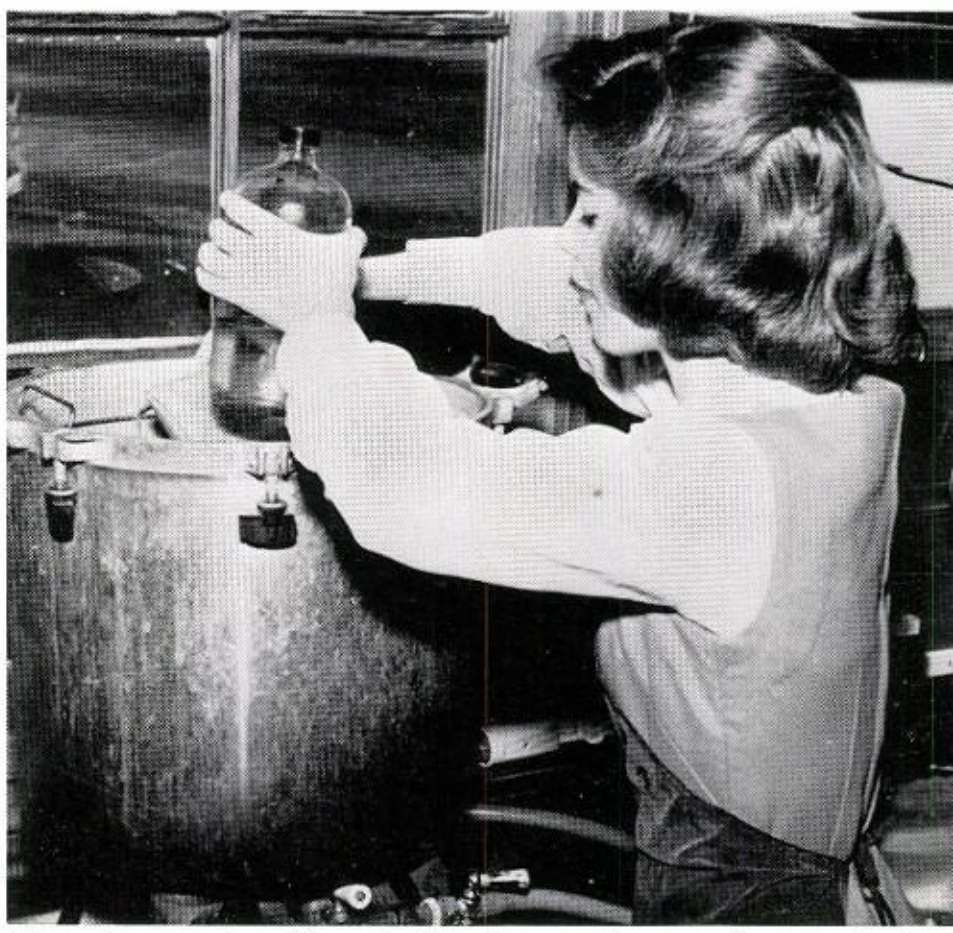


Diane Jones observes the reaction of her chemical compound.



"Say 'ah', little chickie?" coaxes "Dr." Robert Brock, making an inspection of the chickens he hatched for dissection and research purposes.

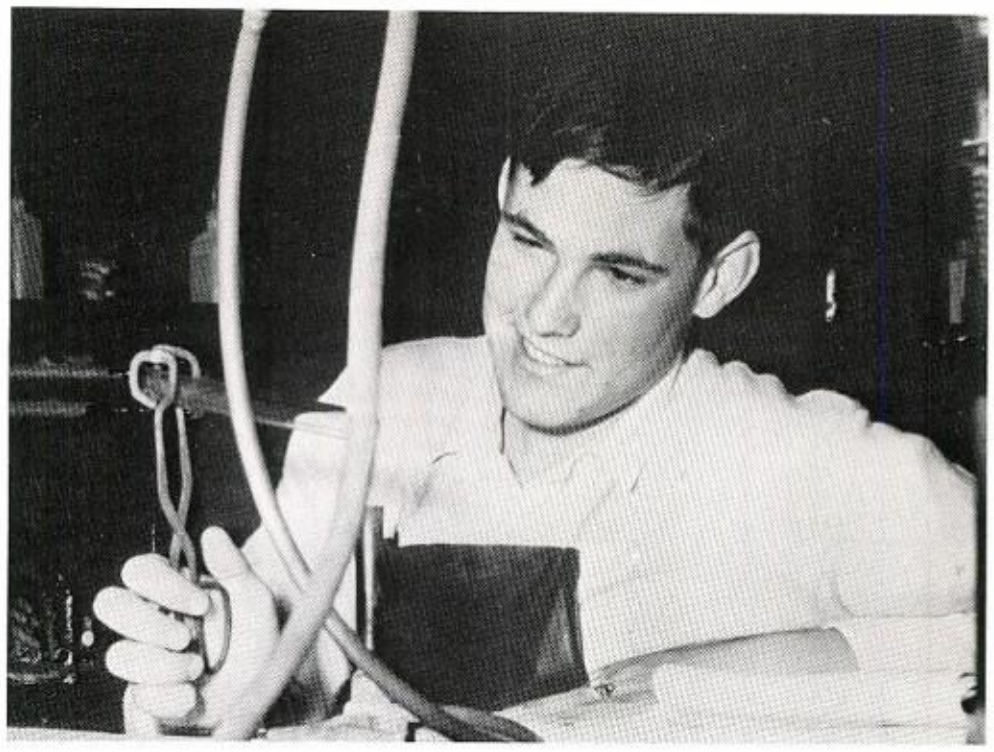
Recording the progress of his bacteria colonies is Charles Fletcher.



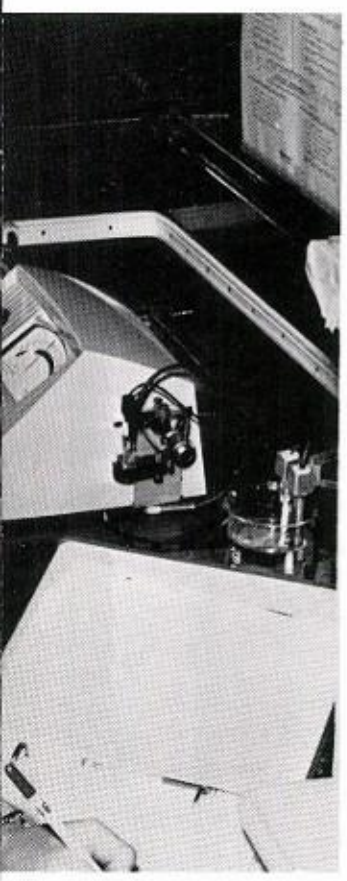
"Fire, burn, and cauldron, bubble. Is my science project worth all t trouble?" misquotes Alice Pelton.

Mysteries

Under the supervision of the Science Staff, Heights students work and experiment to gain more complete knowledge of physics, chemistry, and biology. The record number of science students is usually busy preparing Science Fair exhibits which are always of highest quality. Fine facilities make individual projects possible, and Heights students have always proved outstanding.



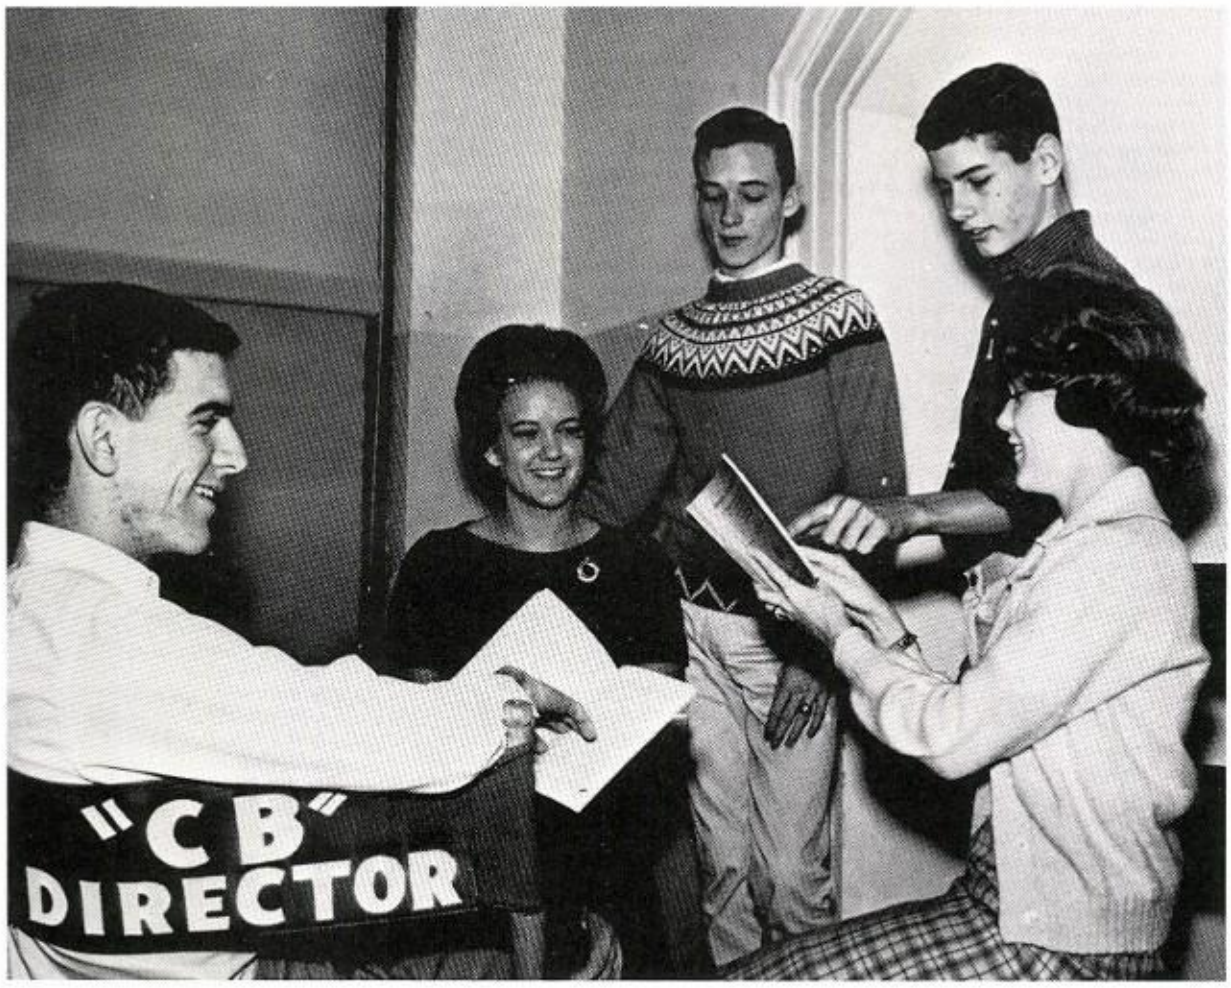
"Ah! If my calculations are correct, this should do the trick!" sneers Charlie Evans.



enry Hesser records ta supplied by one of e many scientific in- uments available to embers of the research oup.

"They'll never know we're really baking muffins," chuckles Robert Drew to Mike Geis and Mary Baldwin.

Comedy Draws Large Audiences



Planning a publicity campaign based on scenes from "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" are officers Stephen Crow, Georgia Hart, Richard Stahl, Ricky Landwehr and President Lucy Leeton.

Under the supervision of Mr. Charles Beseda, the Jacket Footlight Players presented a three-act comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." This year's innovation to the annual play was a special prologue written by the two student directors.

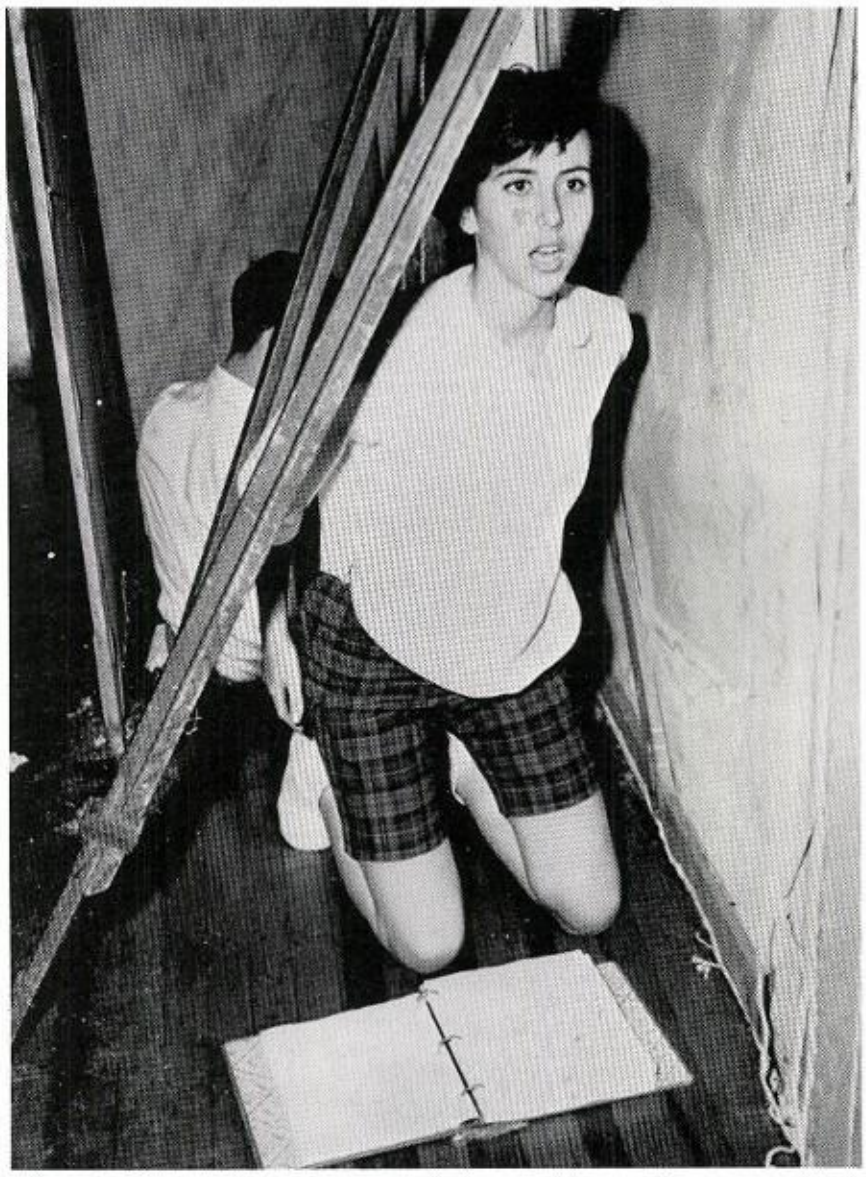
Through their stage productions the Footlight Players gain backstage training in scenery and lighting as well as in acting.

"Take it from me, folks—it's either join Footlight Players or die," advises Butch Clark as he clutches the sword which removed him from active membership.

Director Charles Beseda aids actors in the forceful presentation of their parts.

"Hey, boys," warns Georgia Hart, "quit waving good-bye or the audience will stage a walk-out before the prologue is over."

Richard Stahl gloats as he shows the audience at the Sunrise Breakfast how to upstage the stars.



"Pssst! Wait until we close the curtain before we start the cast party!" whispers prompter Leigh Farley.

Milliga

The goal of the Reserve Officer's Training Corps of Arlington Heights is to train its 146 members in military techniques and practices. Under the experienced leadership of S/Sgt. Leon McDuffie and the new M/Sgt. James A. McCreedy, who joined the corps at mid-term, participants learn drilling and riflery as well as military tactics.

Each year the unit's Drill Team and Rifle Team win awards and acclaim in both city and area competition.

Led by Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Douglas Milligan, the Battle Group participated in the annual Veteran's Day Parade.

"If you don't learn anything else this year, at least you can learn how to hold a gun!" threatens Terry Guerrant.

"First person who steps over this line gets 5,894,217,-000 demerits," warn James Tryon and Barbara Evans.

The highpoints of last year are reviewed by sponsors S/Sgt. Leon McDuffie, M/Sgt. James A. McCreedy and Mrs. Jo Ann Eggleston.

Heads Battle Group Staff

Battle Group Staff: John Manire, Dwight Lilly, Bill Robson, Richard Rowe, Bob Diaz, Stanley Gish, Jearl Walker, Battle Group Sponsor Bobbie Evans, and Battle Group Commander Doug Milligan.

"Boys, you shouldn't have!" exclaims sponsor Nancy Easley at the Annual Christmas party.

"I got it a part—what's the next step now?" ponders Perry Brickley.

"Well, son, I must admit you're the smallest recruit we've had all year," quips Sgt. McDuffie.

Sponsors: Carroll Wiles, Sylvia Backus, Ann Baird, Nancy Easley, Susan Freeman, Jane Nichols, Susan Rhodes, Nancy Brown, Bobbie Evans.

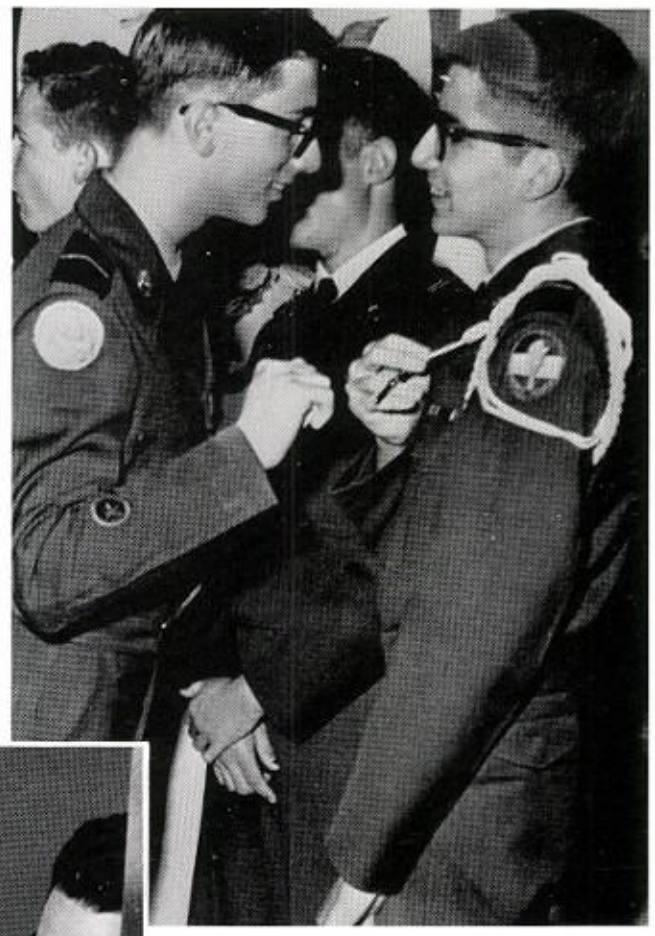
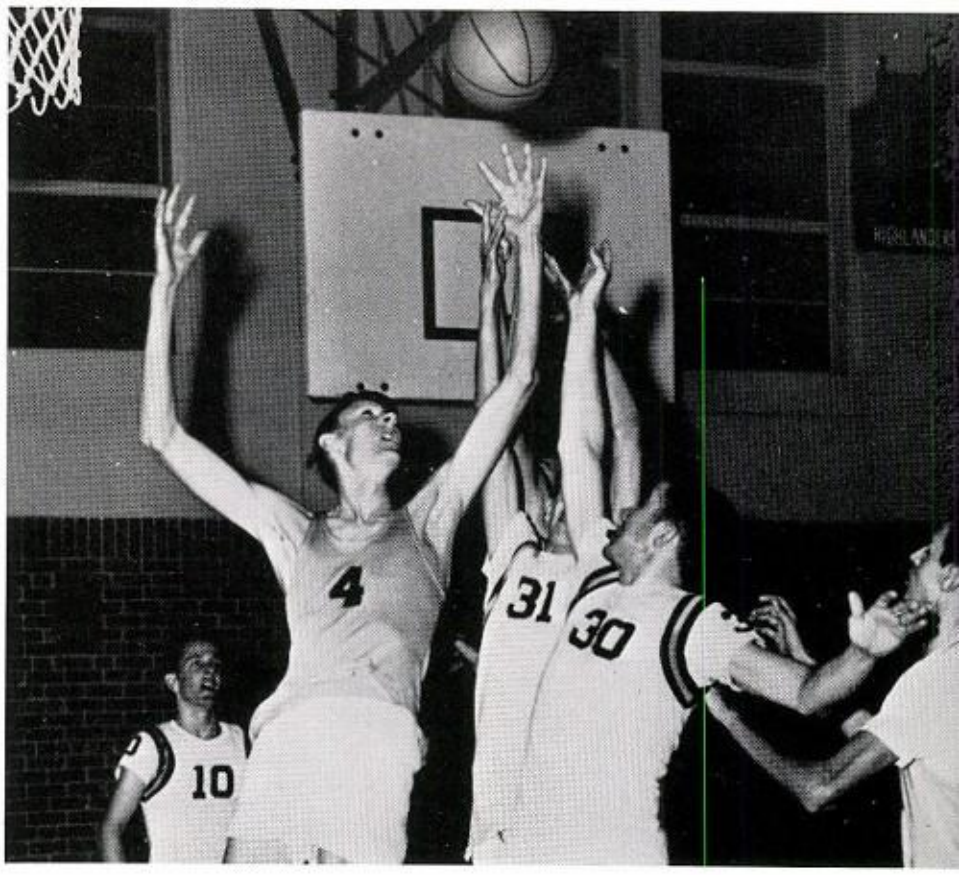
Evans Candidate for All-City Queen



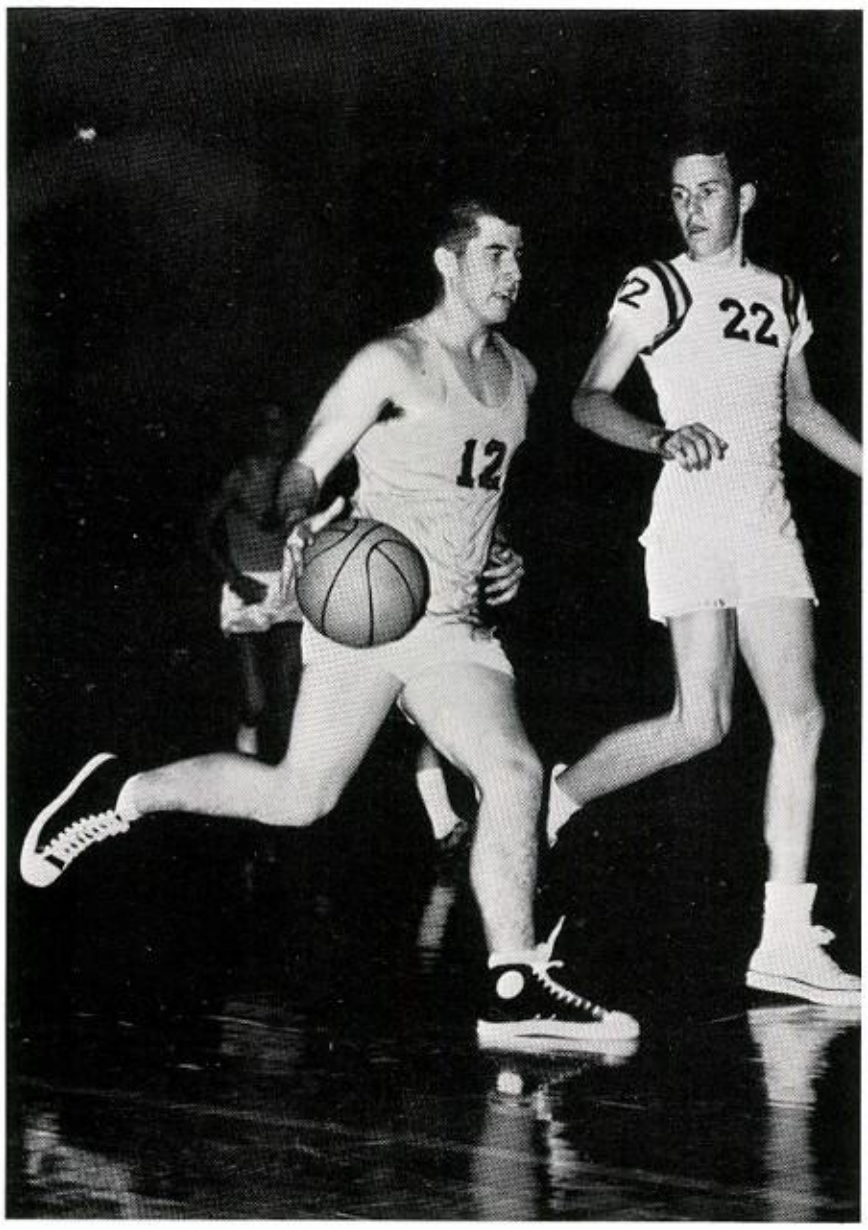
"I say, Flores," observes Don Anderson. "Have you a fleck of dust on your D and B cord?"

"All right, Hoffman. Just because a girl smiles at you, you don't have to get all excited!" laugh Jim Fester, Tommy Tomlinson, and Mike McIntire.

ROTC'S "at Ease"



Straining for an important rebound, Robert Green (4) fights off a pair o opponents as Bob Diaz attempts to crash the boards.



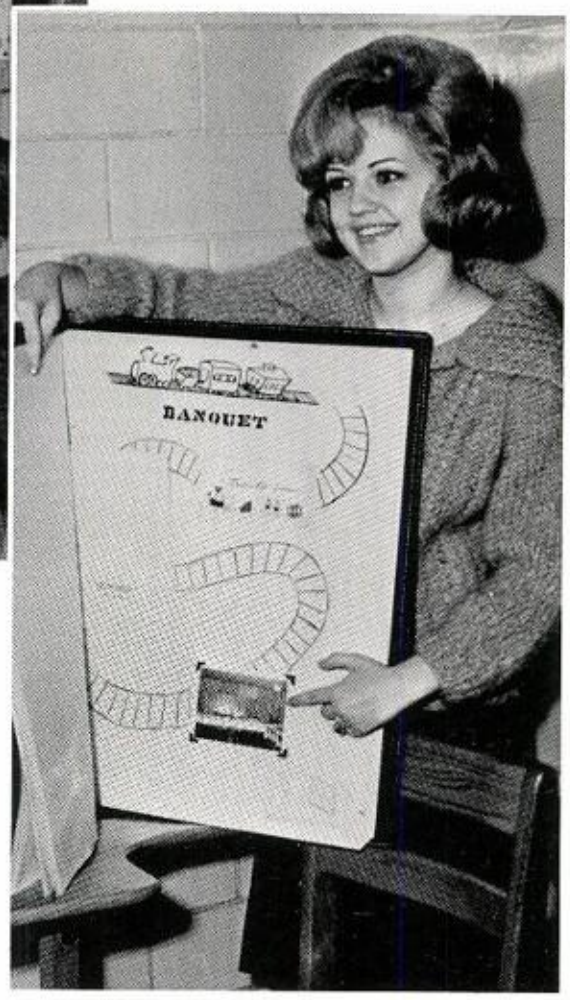
Tom Wylie (12) cuts past an Eastern Hills defender in ROTC competition.

"Hup, two three, twist," is the order at the ROTC Christmas dance.

"No, we will not all three dance together!" exclaims Billy McNutt to David McBee.

Linda Walton presents the campaign speech which won her the office of treasurer as D.E. students held their annual election.

Virginia Porter, Bobbie Hart, and Sponsor Mrs. Lay enjoy the officer's installation banquet.



Judy Proctor, D.E. Sweetheart and Secretary, displays the organization's Scrapbook.

D.E. Trains Future Leaders

Distributive Education is an organization which strives for the personal and professional development of each of its members as future leaders in marketing and distribution.

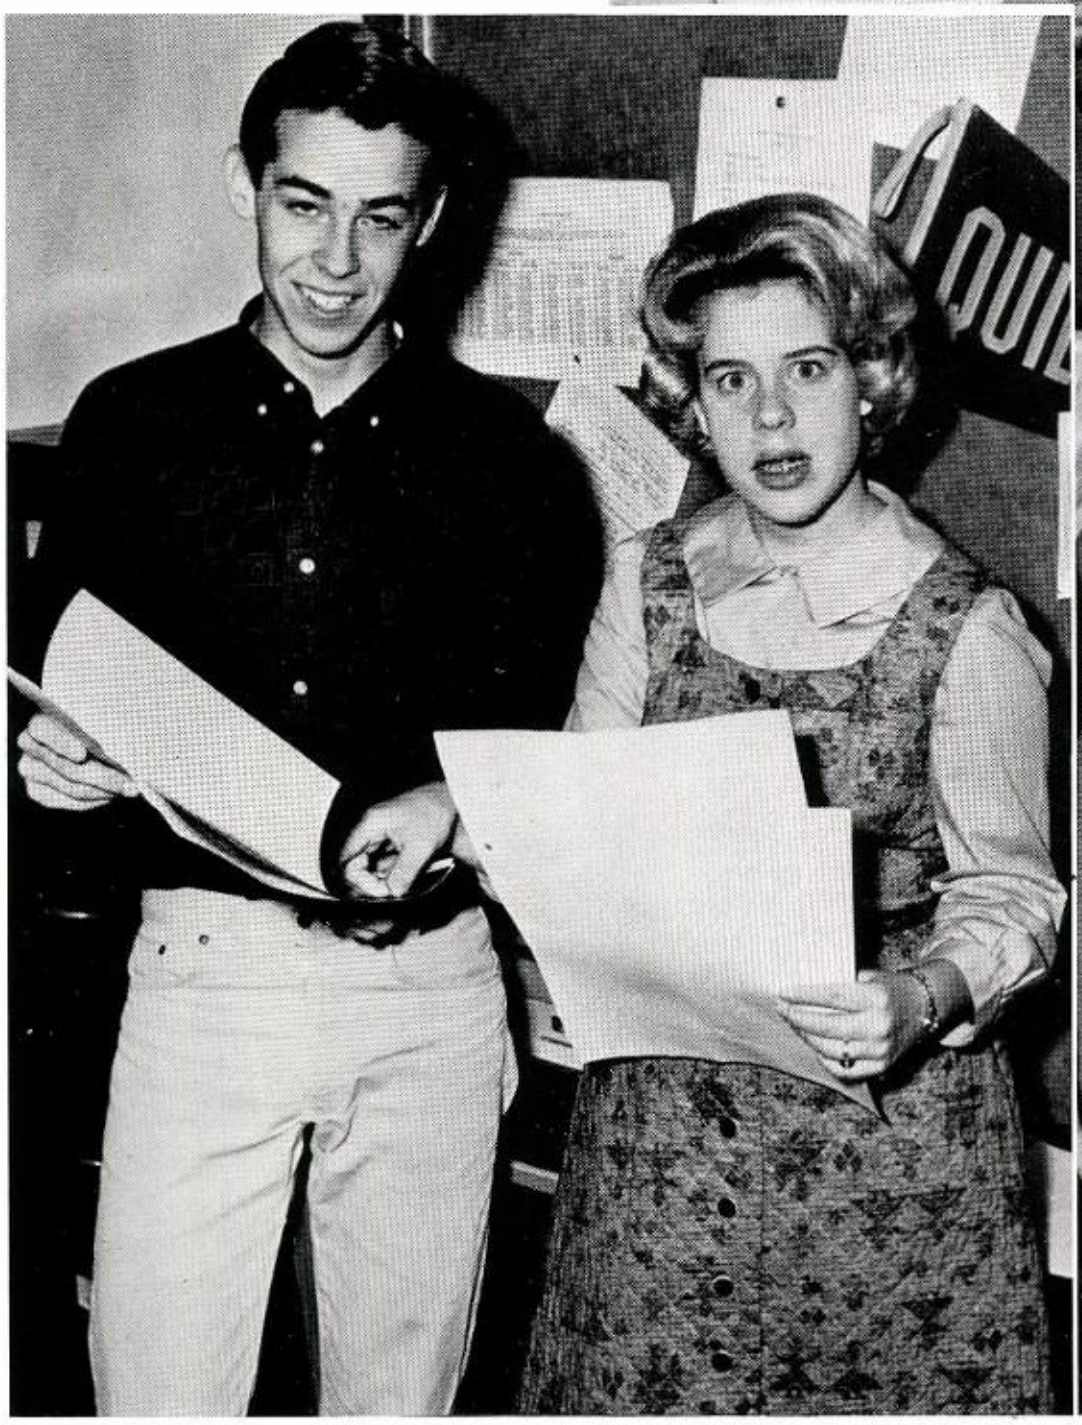
Twenty-two D.E. students leave school after their period each day for their appointed jobs. Receiving regular wages as they learn from both school and store, they are preparing for their future careers.

Leaving the school on their way to work are Dwight Lilly, vice-president; Bobbie Hart, reporter; Ruby Dickey, president; Ray Presley, parliamentarian; and Barbara McClung, historian.

YJ Staff Presents

Throughout the summer and school year, the Yellow Jacket staff works to create an annual which will present an accurate and entertaining picture of the current year. The 1963 theme "Search for Truth" was chosen for its significance in each student's life and the staff endeavored to present this idea meaningfully.

Annual Day, on which staff members and Sponsor Mrs. Oleta Epps reveal the 1963 Y.J. to Arlington Heights student body, represents the culmination of a year's efforts.



"Steve! That picture just bit me!" exclaims Penny Coughlen. "Cool it, man," returns Steve Wood.

Unique Theme

AY Aids

Numbering over one thousand members, Arlington Heights Allied Youth Chapter, largest in the nation, strives to acquaint young people with the evils of alcohol.

The officers, aided by the ten delegates to Buck Hill Falls, lead such AY projects as the AY Beauty Contest and the "Project Hope" fund raising campaign. AY members were informed by Reverend Tom Shipp concerning the ideas of AY and how they relate to the lives of individuals.

Anne Holmes, vice-president, presents Frank Sullivan with two free tickets, the prize for being the 1,000th person to join AY this year.

Project Hope

A display publicizing Project Hope is arranged by Anne Holmes, vice-president in charge of Projects and Finance; Roberta Richards, vice-president in charge of Membership; Eddie Lewis, president; Ann Lowdon, vice-president in charge of Publicity; and Bari Holden, vice-president in charge of Socials.

ne Lanford and Sue Hubbard participate in the money sing campaign for Project Hope by selling candy on owntown street corner.

Anne Holmes and Ann Lowdon officiate as AY registration swings into high gear.

Vice-president Susan Shelton, President George Salazar and Treasurer Lois Smith perform three routine tasks familiar to all Library A sistants.

Aided by Librarian Mrs. Mary Hood, Donna Knight, secretary of the Book Jackets, makes use of the reference file cards.

Broadening Knowledg Goal of Library Club

With a theme of broadening knowledge through books, the Arlington Heights Book Jackets prepare monthly poster displays in the hall, emphasizing various types of literature. Serving during their study hall, library assistants mend check out, and shelve books.

A Delegation to the National Teen-age Library Association in Graham Texas, and an officers' dinner are annual club activities.

Discouraged by the job ahead of him, Rickey Landwehr receives sympathy from Library clerk Mrs. Christine Sherman and Henry Leopold.

F.T.A. Honors Faculty

Giving members a wide-range look at teaching, Future Teachers of America plan their programs to include speakers from the Heights faculty as well as a foreign exchange student, a physical therapist, and a student teacher.

The state convention in Dallas, the Christmas tea, and the annual "Teacher for a Day" for the senior members, highlight the year.

During the membership drive which solicited 78 members, Sonja Moreland enrolls Neta Mayfield.

"I wonder which teacher will get the poisoned apple?" chuckles Sue Hubbard to Rhookie Knipscher and Sharon Adams as members polish apples to honor teachers, observing American Education Week.

Betty Wooldridge, vice-president, Rhookie Knipscher, secretary, Andy Henderson, treasurer, and Donna Caveness, president, inspect the scrapbook which gained statewide recognition.

"Do you mean to tell me that you deliberately turned off the microphone during my speech?" demanded Roxanne Boyd of David Dalton and Stuart Hutchins.

Bob Moriarty exercises his right of personal opinion as he questions the speaker during an open discussion period.

Bob Diaz, vice-president; Terry Guerrant, program chairman; and David Dalton, president, confer with Congressman Jim Wright, who spoke to the YCF group about the 88th Congress.

Everybody Read

An accurate and up to date coverage of student activities is the goal of the Jacket Journal staff, under the supervision of Mrs. Emily Lunday. The editors compile and refine stories written by journalism students to form the School newspaper.

The Jacket Journal holds a large circulation, other than its own students, with many other schools and individuals receiving copies.

Arlington Heights' 55 member orchestra is e largest in the city, with many contest medal inners and first chair players. Presenting classical usic, the orchestra gives several concerts during e year, including the annual Christmas program ith the chorus.

In August the Jacket Band begins practicing lf-time routines for football games. A major ntributor to school spirit, the band shows eir skill in various contests as well as before the udent body. A highlight of the year was the in- tation from John Connally to march in his augural Parade.

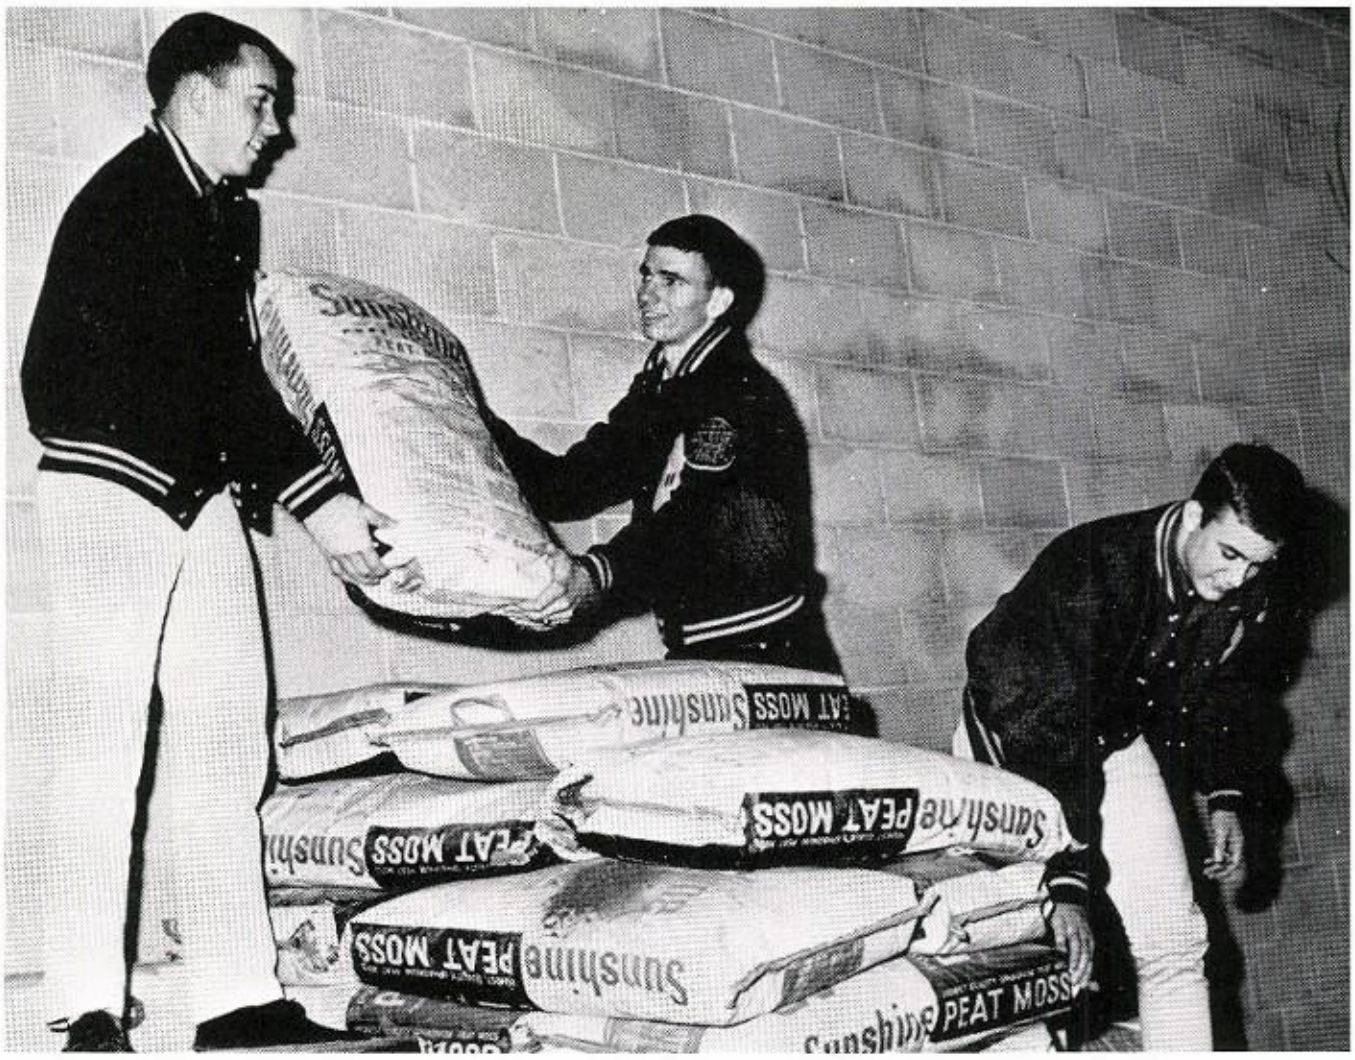
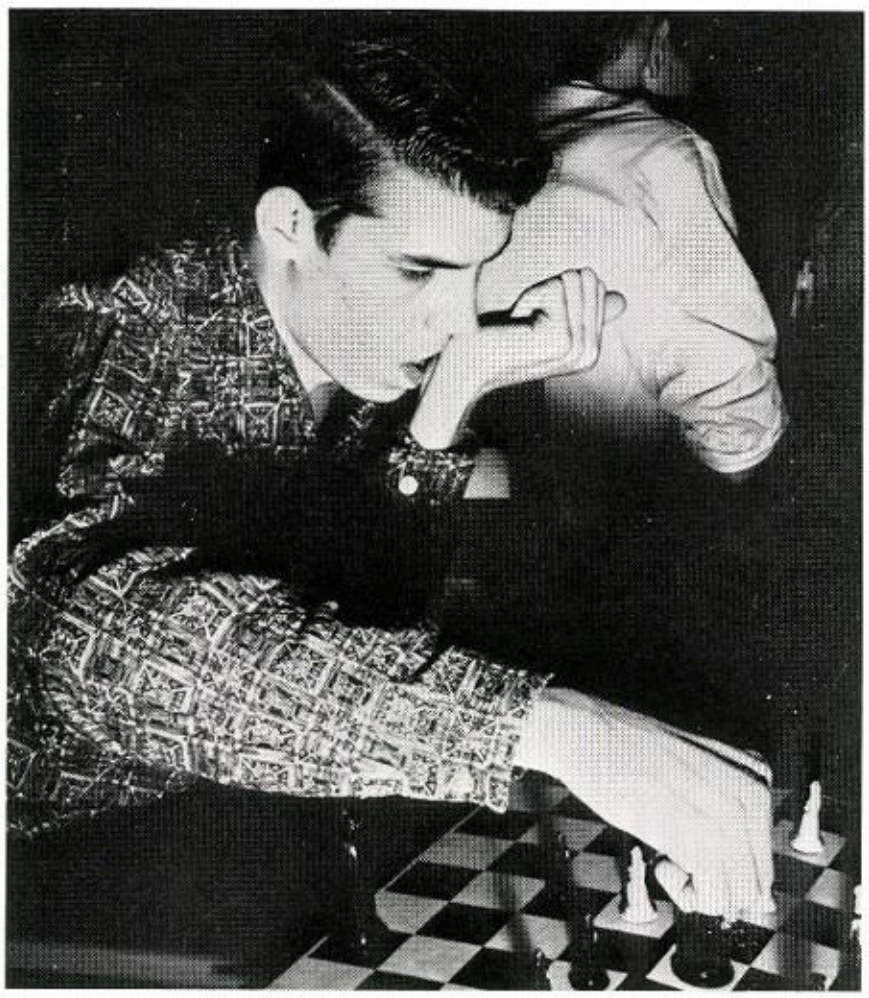
"A" Club Promotes Athletic Unity

The "A" Club—whose members are lettermen from baseball, basketball, football, golf, tennis, and track—strives to bring these individual sports together to form a strong athletic department. As its current fund-raising project, members of this organization chose to sell fertilizer.



Officers Johnny Dalton, secretary-treasurer Jim Henderson, vice-president, and John Richards, president, count and stack bags of fertilizer for distribution.

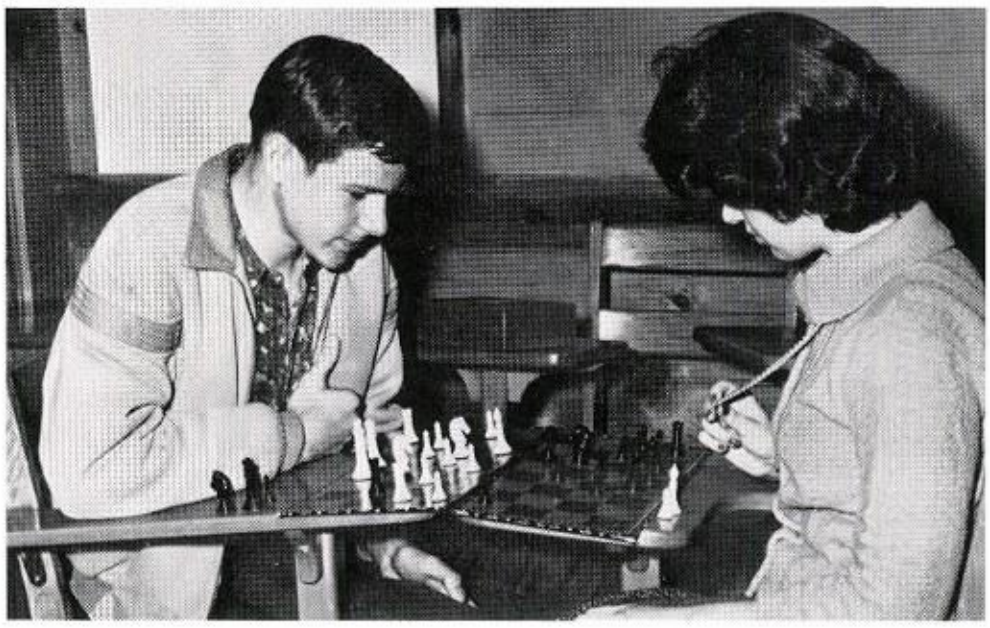
Competition Sparks Chess Club



"Let's see now—are mine the black ones or the white ones?" ponders Bob Miller during a moment of indecision.

With an increased membership for 1962-63, the Chess Club sponsored by Mrs. James York meets every Wednesday. Weekly practice enables members to polish their skills through friendly competition.

Officers include Bill Worthington, president; Philip Dorcus, vice-president: Terry Guerrant and Chuck Hoster, co-secretary-treasurer.



"Keep your eyes on the shiny object. You are getting sleepy, sleepy—" chants Terilee Amos to unsuspecting opponent Billy Cloer.

J.R.C. Finances Gift Chests

Junior Red Cross, composed of Student Council alternates elected by their homerooms, collected $225 this year to aid underprivileged families overseas. The contributions of Heights' students enabled the sending of two chests, and gifts to the local children's hospital and the national chapter.

Programs and refreshments for hospitals and children's homes are planned by the officers guided by Mr. Marvin Miller, sponsor.

Vice-President Margaret Pace, President Stuart Hutchins, and Treasurer Henry Leopold look on as Secretary Roxanne Boyd explains the significance of a mosaic at the Red Cross Chapter House.

F.N.A. Given Vocational Training

Educational programs, a field trip to St. Joseph's Hospital, and the annual state convention aid the Future Nurses of America in preparing for a career in medicine. Under the supervision of R. N. Mrs. Mary Fisher, club members are instructed in the basic requirements of nursing.

"Hmmm—very interesting. You say you're sick of school?" jokes Mary Lee Rhode, secretary, to Linda Shelton, president, as Karen Pounds, vice-president, agrees.

Officers for the year include President Jon De Koker, Program Chairman Betty Buckley, Publicity Chairman Laurie Reilly, Vice-president Camille Keith, Treasurer Carol Hubbard, and Secretary Pat Koch.

Press Club Unites Journalists

Reorganized after a year's dormancy, the Press Club encourages wholesome journalistic standards and promotes friendship and cooperation among members of the Yellow Jacket and Jacket Journal staffs. One of its major projects is a bulletin board containing pictures and stories of the most recent achievements of Height's students.

Speakers at regular meetings included Paul Ridings, a public-relations expert, and Roy Eaton, a radio broadcaster, both of whom had many significant suggestions about journalistic practices.

On a visit to Cantrell's Printing Company, the Press Club learns steps involved in publishing.

Jinx Welsh puts the finishing touch on the bulletin board which highlights each week at Heights. Camille and Carmen Keith also aid in this project.

ACTIVITIES provide outlets of self-expression for those who need experience to develop their individual talents.

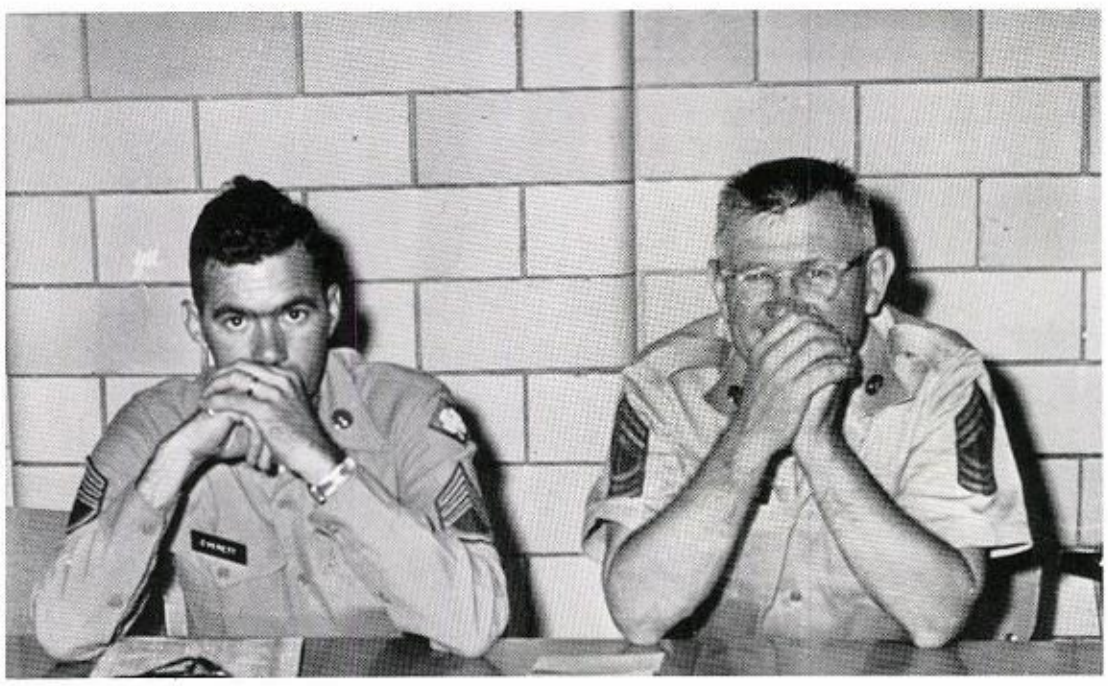
"That's a pretty rare specimen over by the water fountain (with the banana in his hand). I think I'll keep him in mind for further study," contemplates biology teacher, Mr. Arseneau.



"We're so cute," giggles Sgt. McDuffie.

"Hey, grab this . . . Stengele's stuck in the door," points out Barbara McKinney.

"Now, Don, promise me you'll ask Coach Ludiker if I can ride back with the team," pleads Lana Lowry.

"So far so good," thinks John Robertson, "now if I can only get past Coach Ludiker . . ."

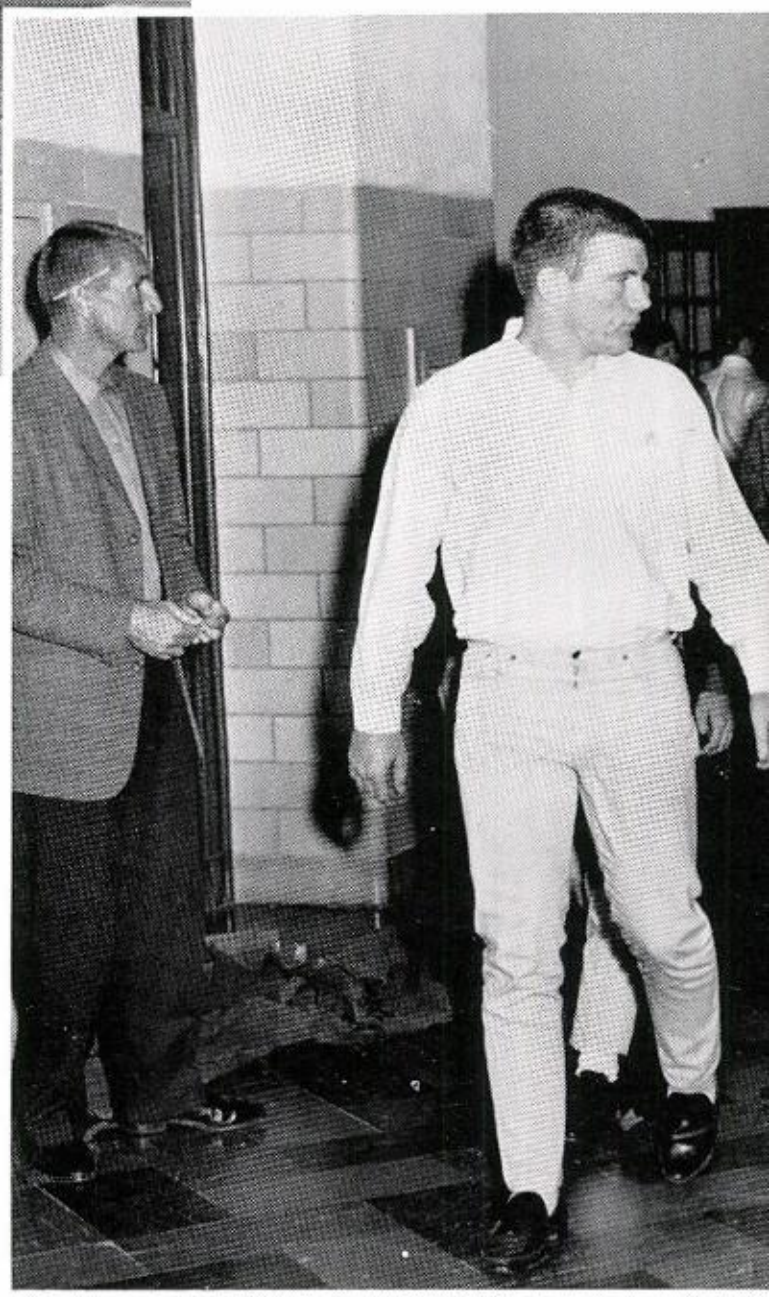
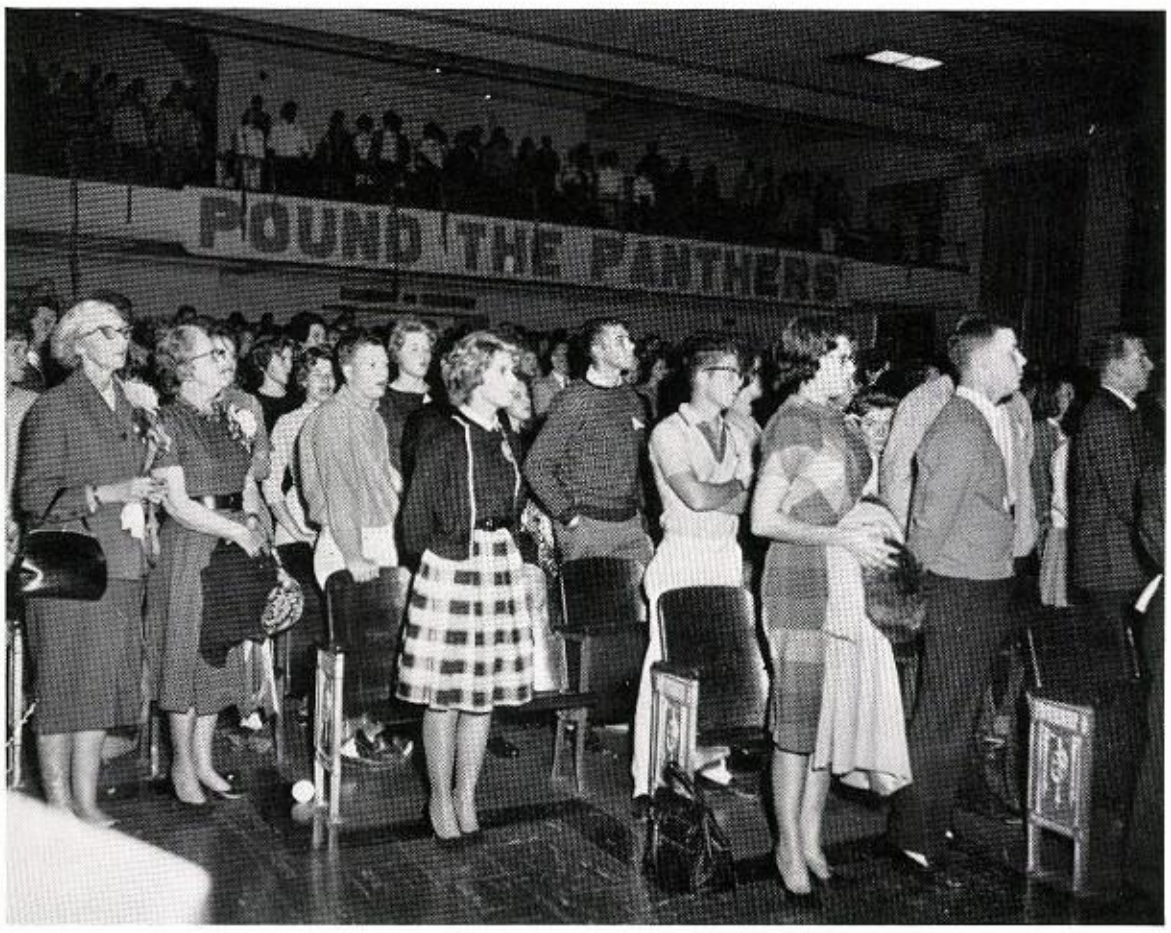
ABILENE TRIP

"Was it worth it?" mutters senior Carroll Wiles, as she departs from the bus. Fifteen buses made the trip this year, and lucky school personnel such as Mr. Van Meter, pictured at the left, served as chaperones. This year the fightin' Jackets traveled to Abilene, and although the score was somewhat disappointing, a gay time was had by all.

"And then, when I leaned out the bus window, this funny little man said, 'Rapunzel, Rapunzel, let down your long hair'" relates Melody Reimer.

"After I finish this, then all that's left of my punishment is to write 'I will not talk back to Miss Haden' a thousand times," sighs Mr. Pegram.





"O say can you see" . . . "Well I can't," murmurs Mrs. Hunter.

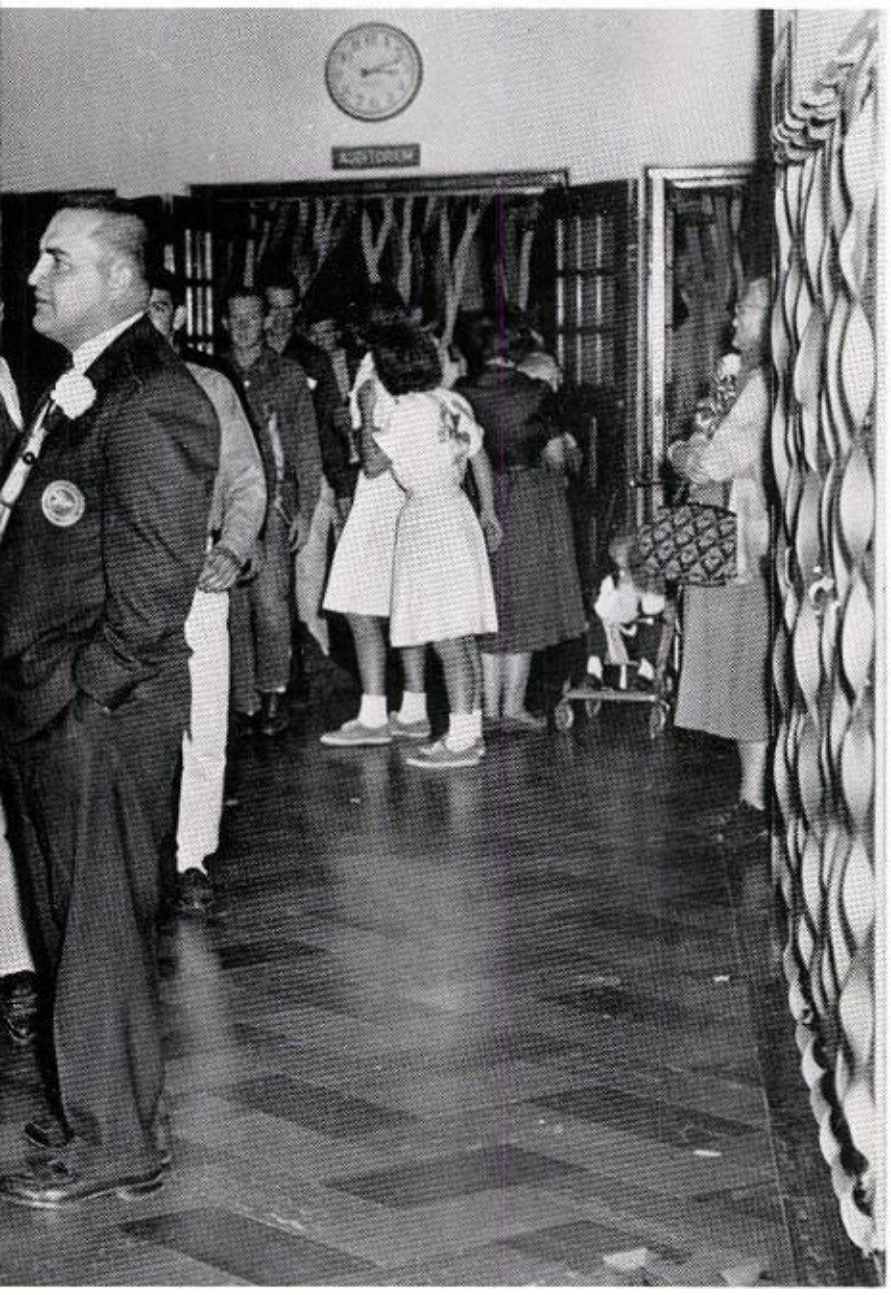
HOMECOMING

Traditionally, the highlight of the football season is homecoming, as locker decorations, returning exes, and the smell of victory prepare students for the final thunderous rally before the big game. Last minute encouragement and advice is given to departing players by cheerleaders and Coach Ludiker.



"Ah! Now if I can get both hands stuck, all I'll have to do will be to stay this way until after my test 2nd period," plots junior Rick Rogers.

"I don't think Larry should have said that," says Missy Lee to Bari Holden as they prepare to hold off the angry mob.

"Get away from him! I saw him first," screams Loma Fellows.

"Hey, Gayle, wouldn't it be funny if we won!" laughs an enthused Mary Ralph Lowe.

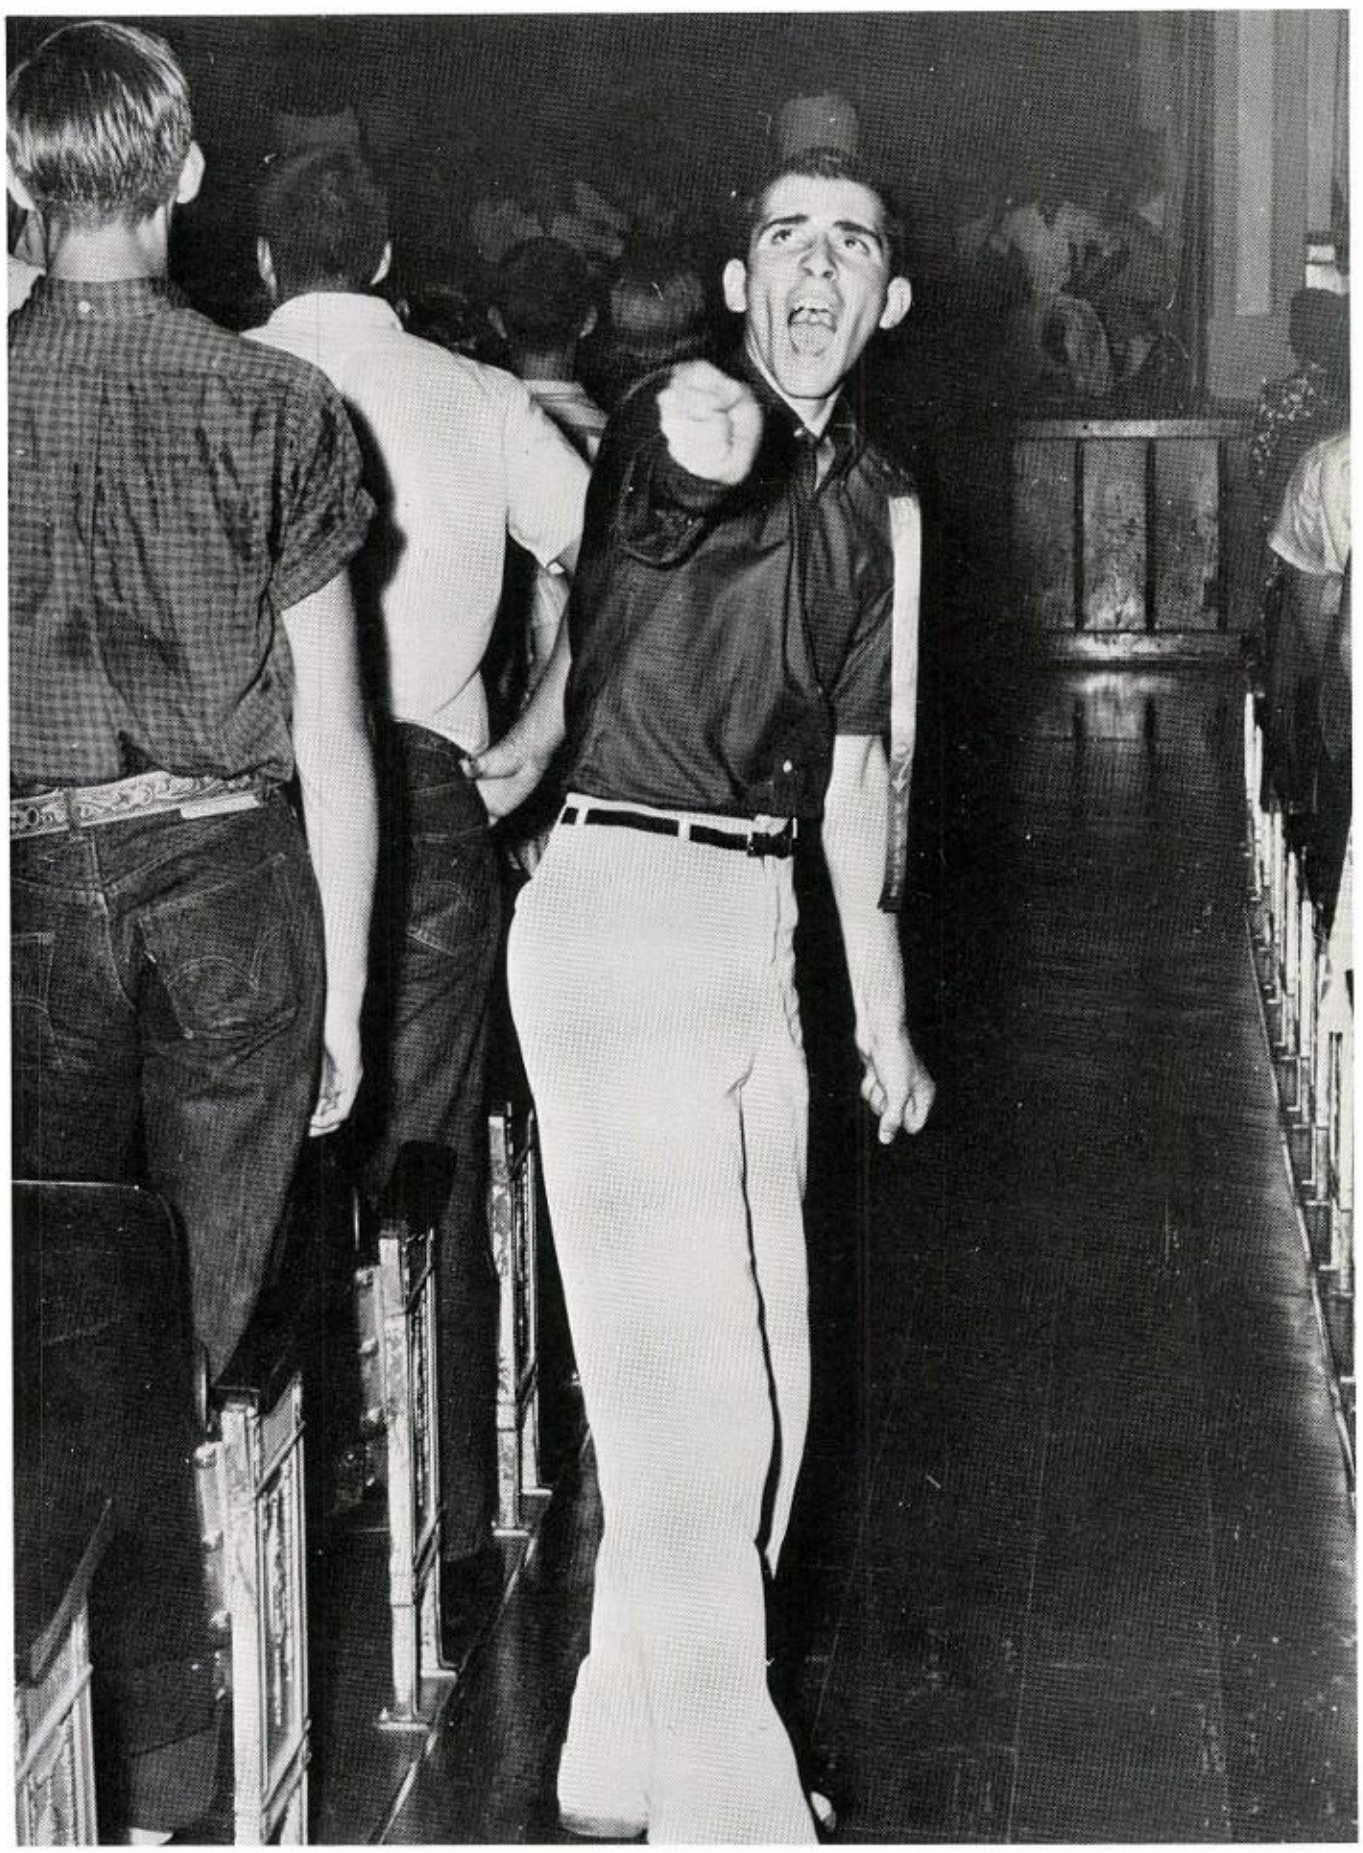
"Two more ribbons and I'll have my lunch money for today," plots Pat McMahon.

We've Got the Pep . . .

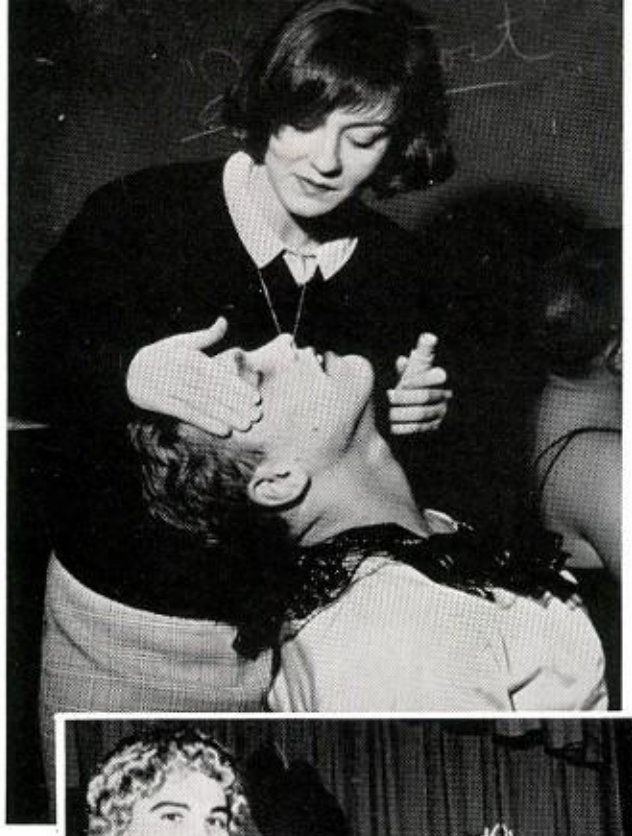
PEP RALLIES

On pep rally day, with a feeling of anticipation, students take an extra ten seconds to gargle with Listerine. This ritual has been recently established as a result of the tremendous spirit shown by Heights Twelfth Man. Leaders of Heights Twelfth Man, Colleen Walter, Larry Worley, Bari Holden, and Ronnie Smith exemplify the enthusiasm felt by all Jackets.

"Hey! We told you not to stomp in the balcony," yells alternate cheerleader Joe Gaston.



"And this is what a Tech bulldog looks like," growls Mrs. Hanley during her pep talk.



"Why, Hugh, I never realized how delicate you are," observes Coleen Dunigan.

"Someday my prince will come," predicts "Petunia" Ferguson.

AY Beauties

Nine new, but for some reason, familiar faces were seen slipping through the halls February 12. These husky, well-rounded(?) AY beauties were well received by the eager audience who held their pennies until after all had been seen. "Bobbete" Needham was chosen winner but it was agreed that all beauties were hilarious in their fashionable attire.

"Is there somewhere I can go to pull my girdle down?" asks Kenny Sue Tarlton of Marsha Craig.

"I feel like a goose," honks Bobette Needham

There's nothing like coordination.

"Hey, Fisher, drop him—here comes Mr. Pegram," warns look-out Jim Belknap.

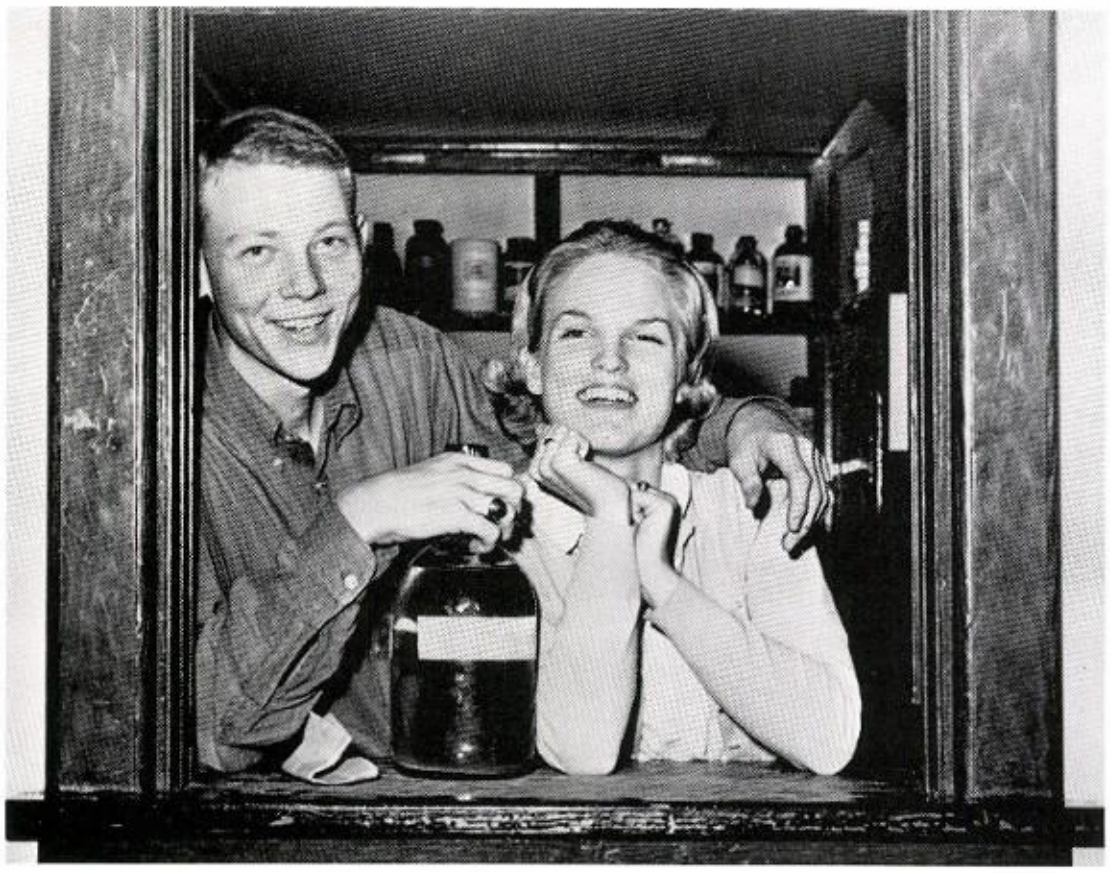
Deck the Halls

STUDENT ELECTIONS

Between shouts of "Who swiped the tape?" the faithful backers of those running for student body offices completely redecorate the halls of Heights in one afternoon. All the time and trouble of running a campaign are forgotten when the lucky candidates are chosen. The finale came when the oath of office was given by Vice-Principal Mr. Sharp to Jim Henderson, Marilyn Redwine, Lucy Brants, and Suzanne Roberts.

"But it looked so easy when Mr. Wizard did it," muses Sandi Michels.

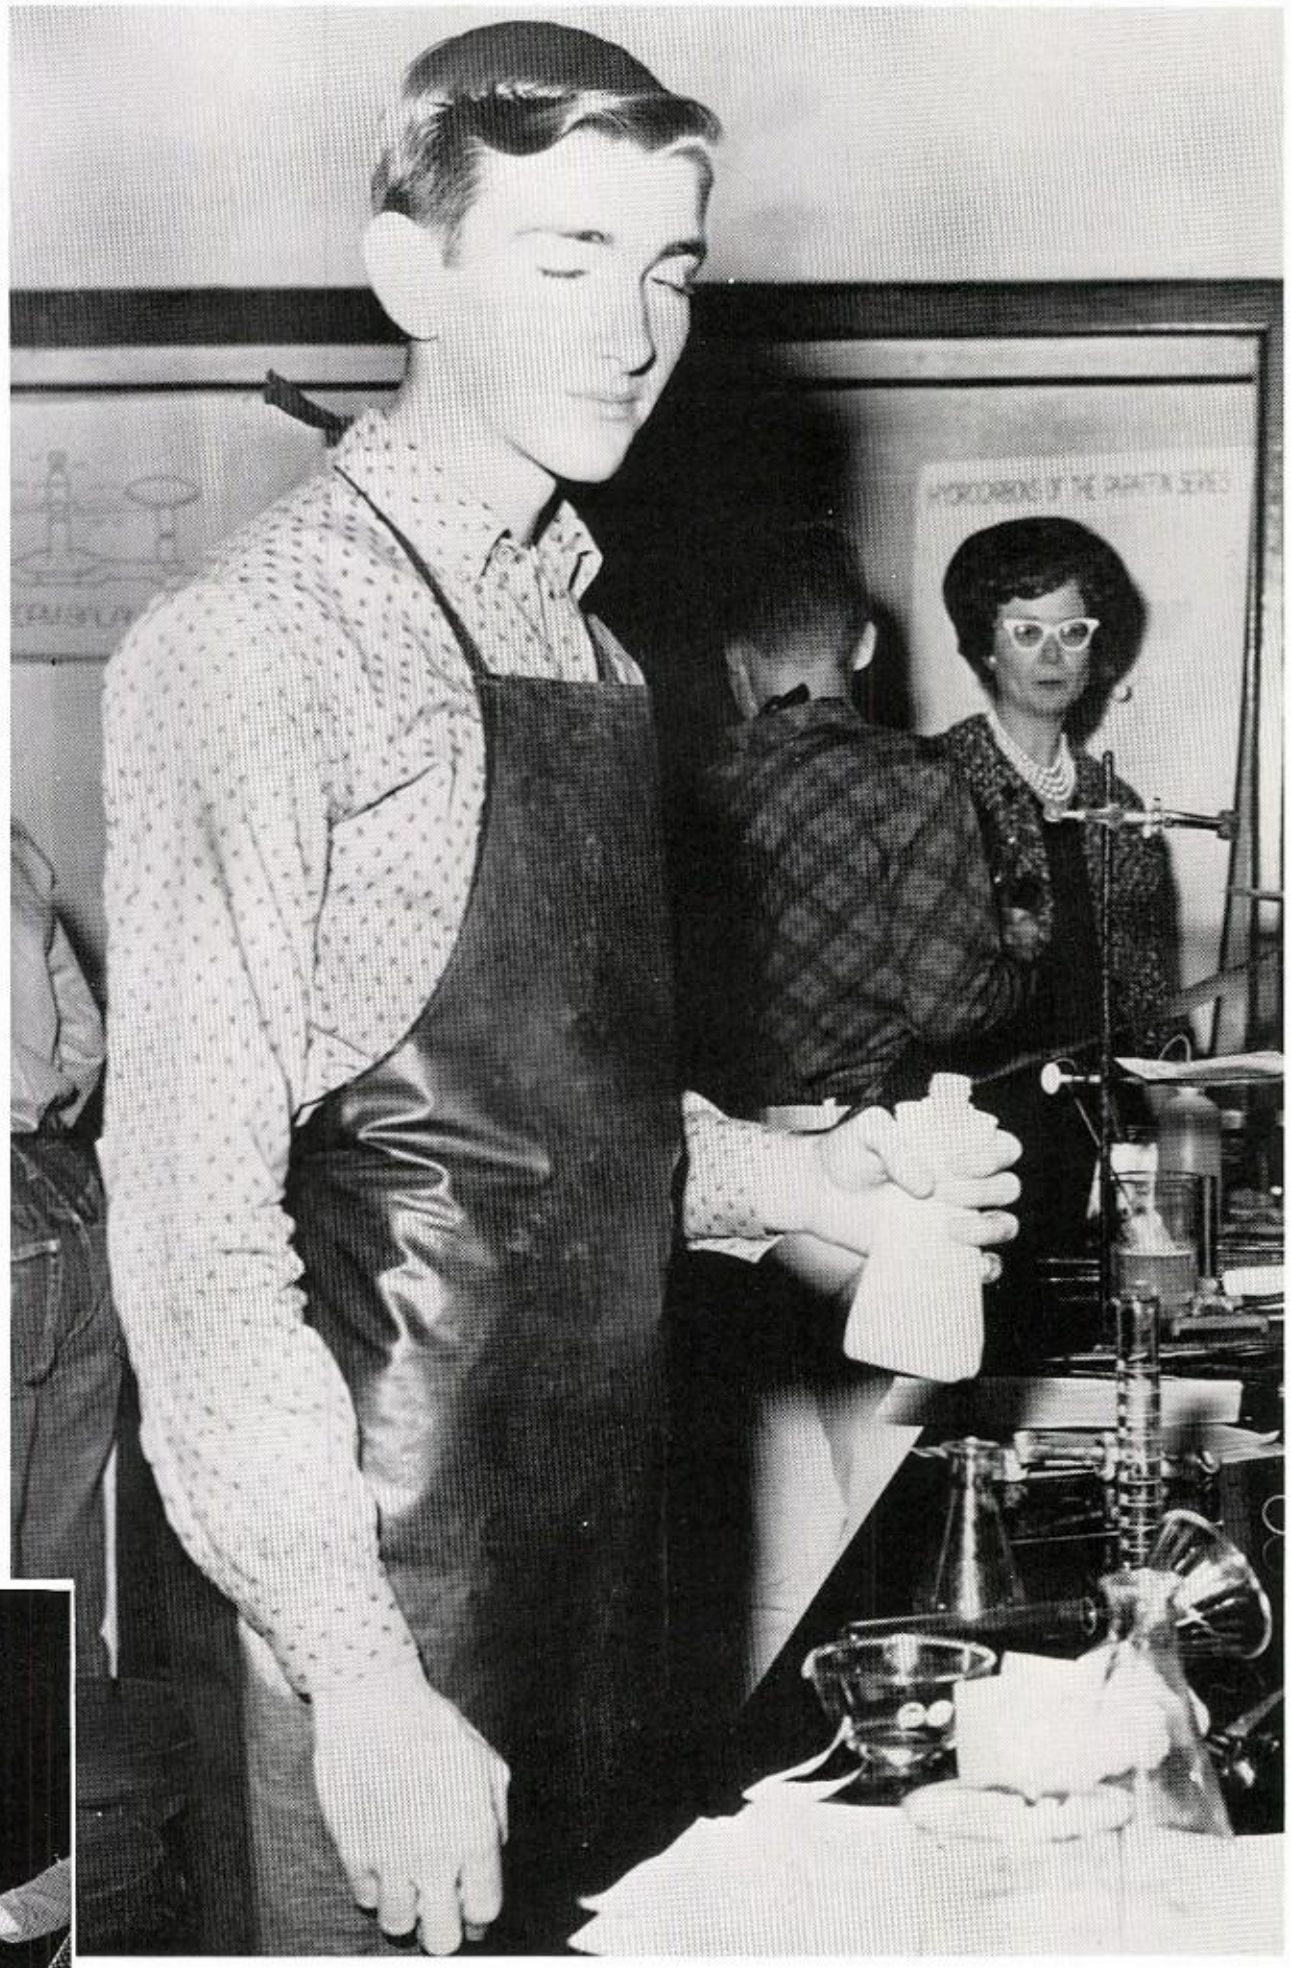
"Mitch" Carson toots his own horn.



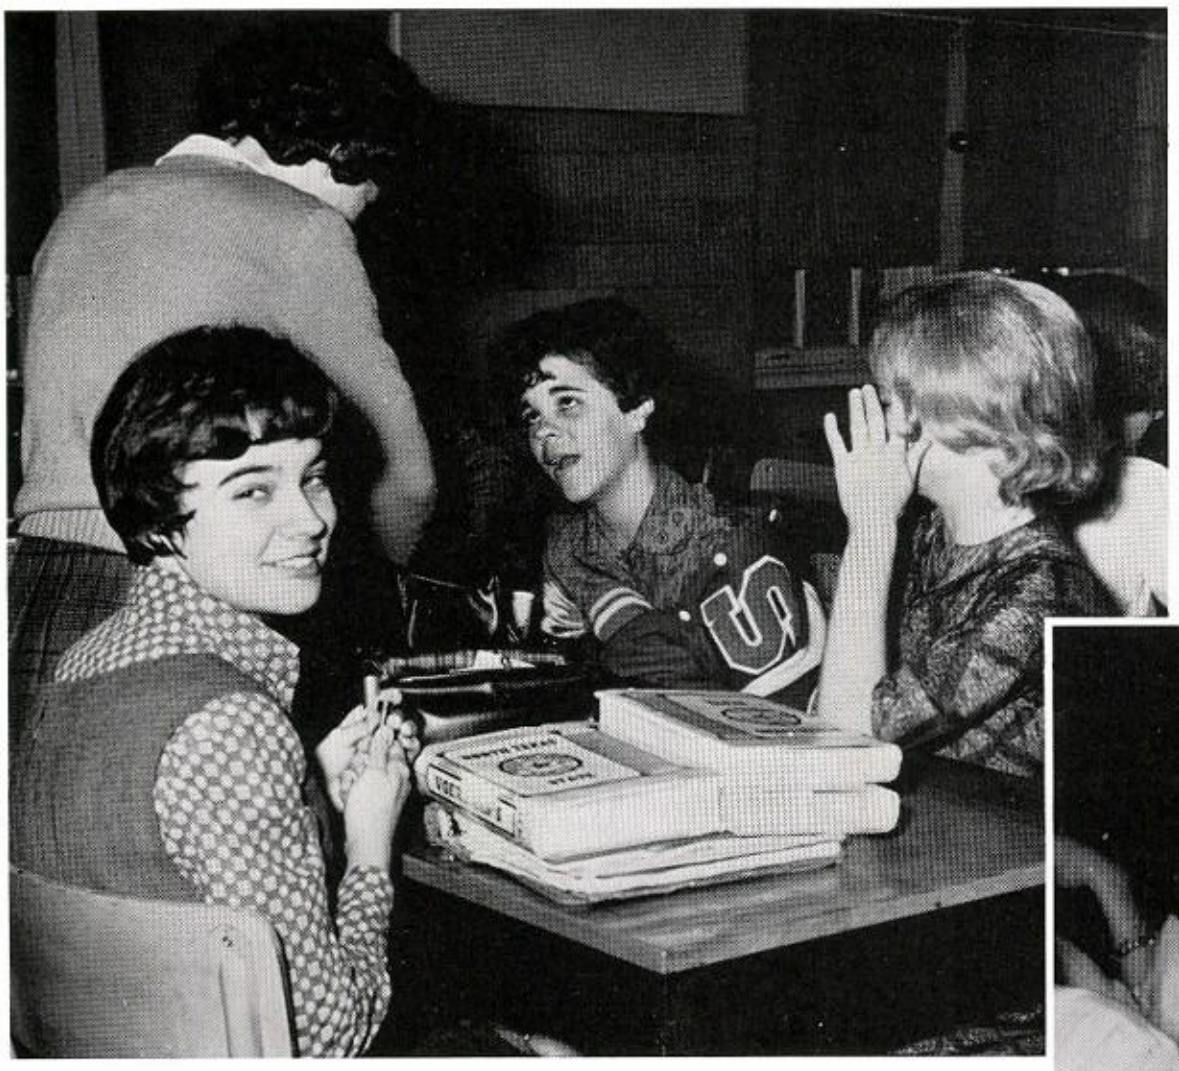
"They call it that good ole mountain dew," grin Steve Buchanan and Caryn Tracy.

Behind Closed Doors

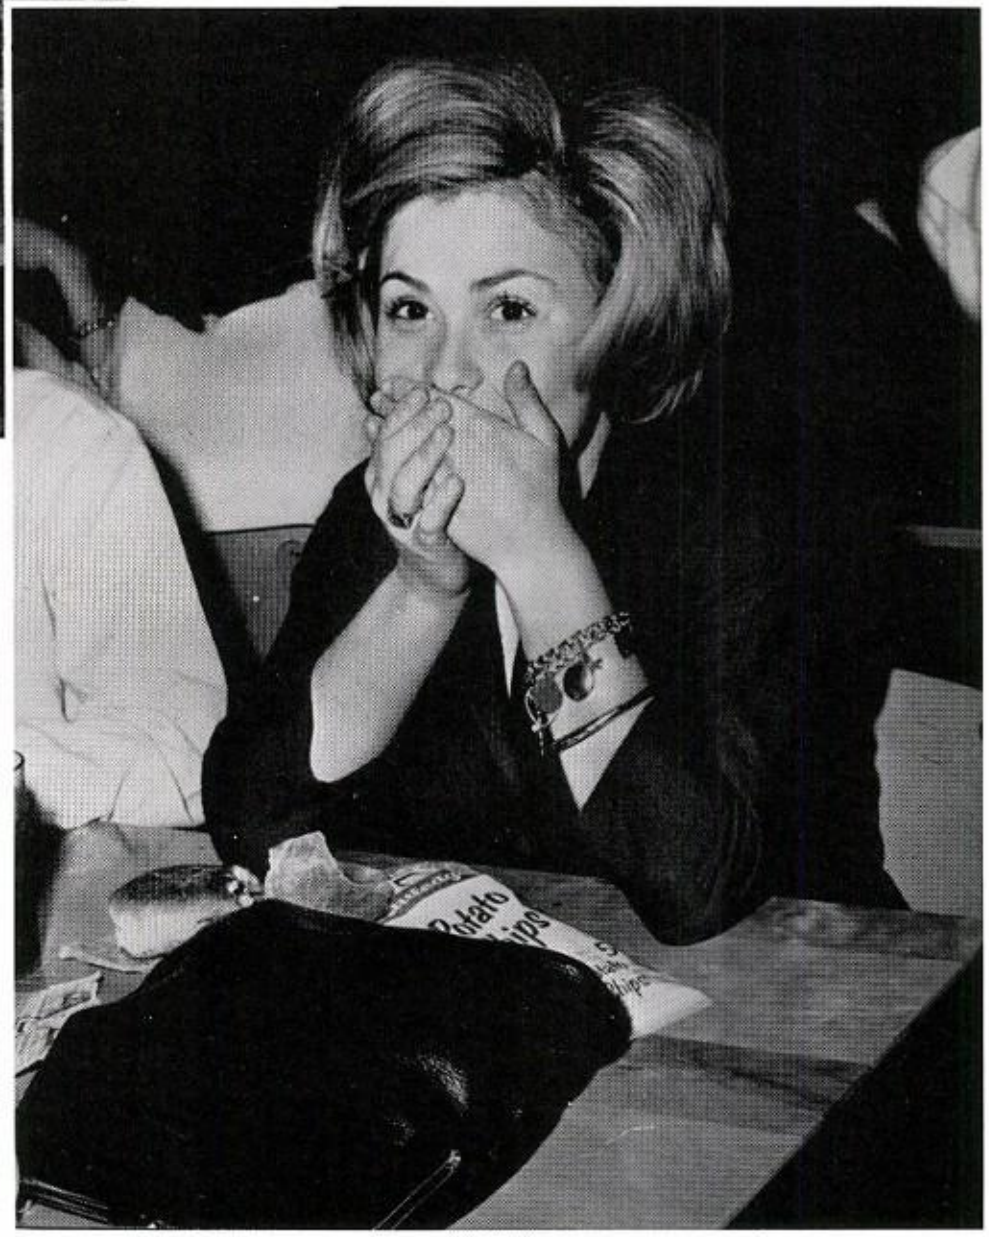
Music and science labs offer future musicians and mad scientists the chance to develop their talents. Classes in the east wing must call on all their self-control to keep still while the stage band swings through the "Heights Boogie." Meanwhile classes in the main building receive the fallout of rotten egg gas from the chemistry lab. Philip Dorcas gives a typical reaction as he gasps, "Man, that stuff is potent!"



"According to the law of gravity, Mr. Phillips should fall on his face when he trips on this wire," explains physics student Bob Miller.



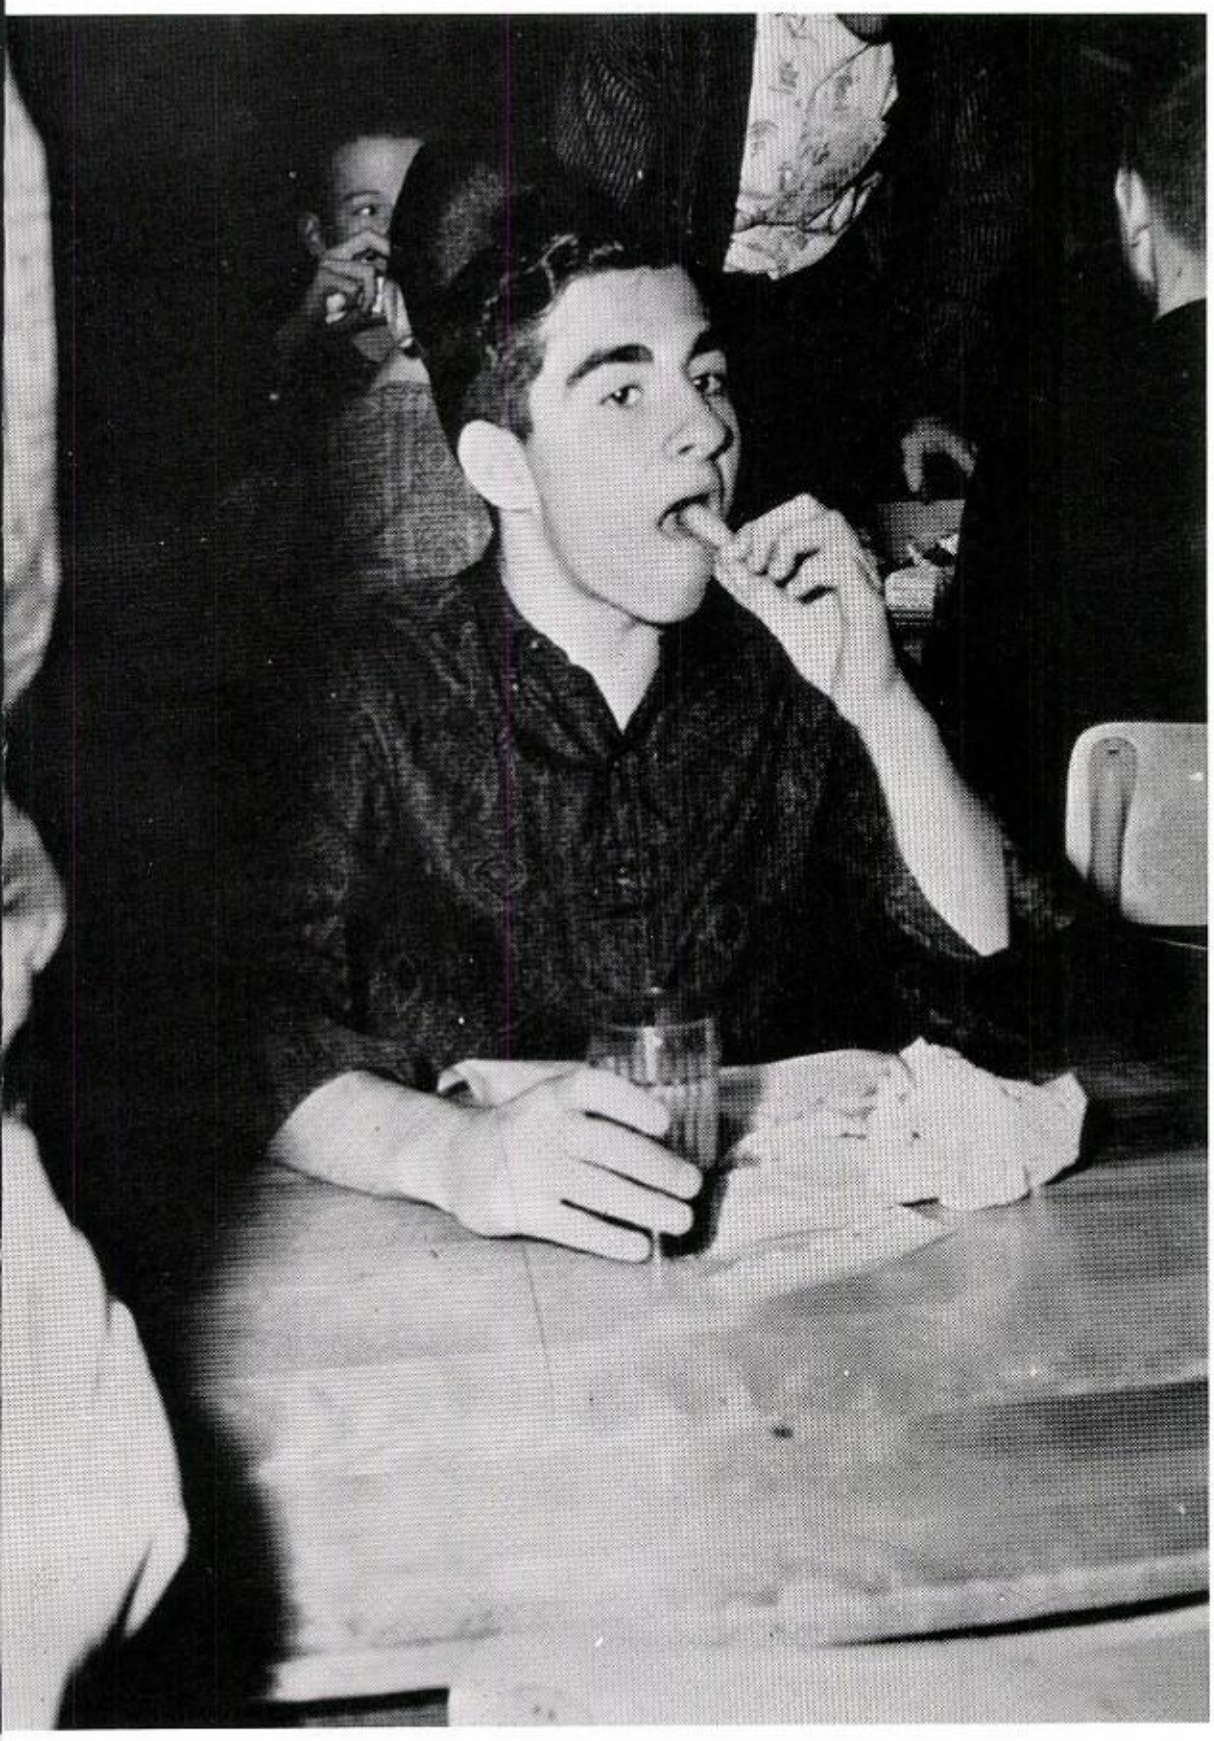
"Please, Schopmeyer . . . I'd rather do it myself!" pleads Janet West.



"Burp!" burps Lynne Ringler.

"I'll teach you to talk about me behind my back!" screams Jane Moore.

Open Mouth . . . Insert Food



LUNCHROOM

After three strenuous classes, nearly all students are found "out to lunch" in the lunchroom. It is there that pent up emotions are released over fried okra and congealed fruit salad. Polishing off his last bite, Hank Bourke mutters, "Good grief, what's wrong with my tongue?"

"I've seen better looking food in the biology lab," thinks Tommy Shields as he looks over his choices.

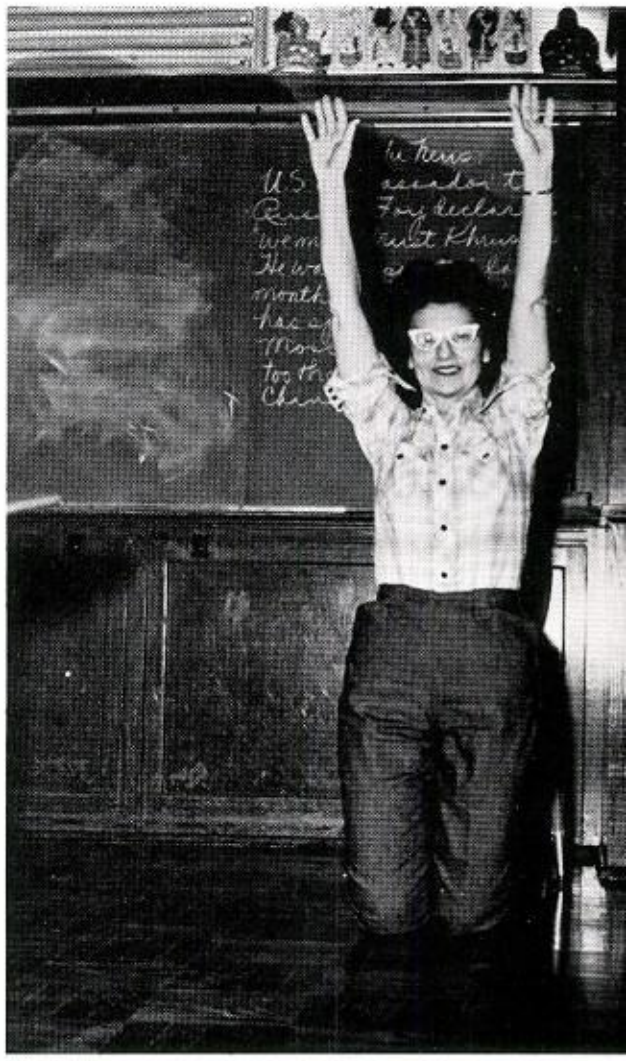
"I wish that waiter would hurry up and take away my trash," sulks Bill Alvis.

Who Brought This Horse to School?

"Is there a clean-up committee on the Student Council?" asks Bill Talbot.

RANCH DAY

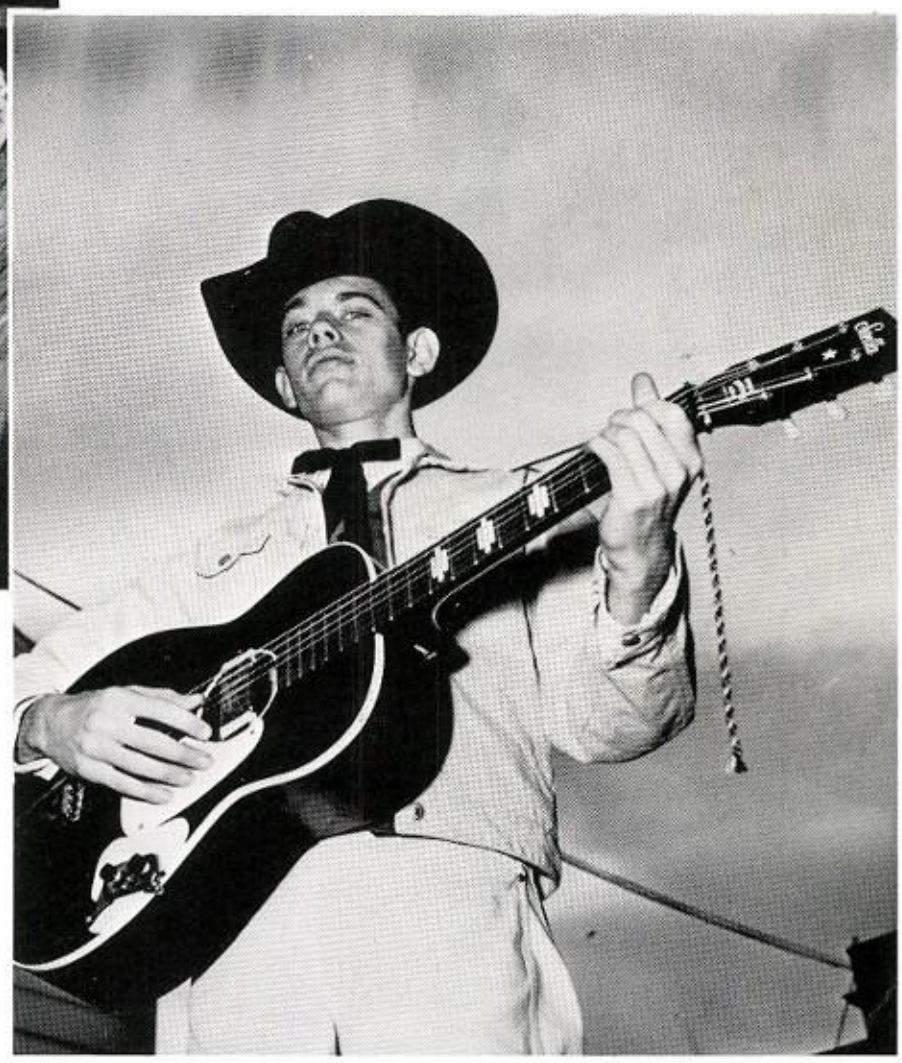
All the cowboys, cowgirls, and others from the west side of town gathered at the Hill to celebrate Ranch Day. Girls praised the comfort of Levi's and riding pants and expressed the desire to wear them year-round. Watchful cowboys hanging around the halls expressed the same desire. With everyone in agreement, what do you say, Mr. Pegram?



"Don't let those Brahma bulls loose in this clas pleads Mrs. Hanley.

"Any teacher who thinks he can make us go to class today, just step across that line," challenge the Sinister Sixteen.

"No, Chuck, I will not go to your teepee with you," states Glynda Ratcliff.



". . . And I'd like to dedicate this to Joe, from one who cares," strums Perry Brickley.

Heights Finds Trial Opponents Tough

In their up and down season the Yellow Jackets of Arlington Heights tasted defeat early, falling to Tascosa's Rebels in the rain at Amarillo. Heights bounced back to ride herd on the Haltom Buffaloes, but dropped a similar 32-6 decision to Abilene High a week later on the school sponsored trip. It was an angry swarm of Jackets that trounced Carter in the initial district clash of the season. Although Richland came out on top 19-7 in a non-conference duel at Birdville Stadium, the Warbugs captured an important win at the expense of Poly's Parrots to remain in the title race. North Side handed A.H.H.S. its first district loss in a close battle the following week. The Jackets rebounded to jar a weak Tech squad, but again the Paschal Panthers spoiled Homecoming by stamping a shut-out defeat into the record books. Heights had to settle for a second-place tie in District 4A-5 when champion Eastern Hills put them down in an exciting season finish.

Championship, Breaks 26-Year Jinx

With a mediocre 9-6 preseason record in the books, the Jacket cagers battled through the initial six-game district round without defeat. Four contests were decided by very narrow margins but each victory brought them a step closer to the first basketball championship in the history of A.H.H.S.

The Westsiders could manage only a 4-2 second half, which forced them into a single game play-off with Paschal's Panthers. The dream of bringing the district crown home to the Hill was realized! Cindermen Capture in Third Annua Vaulting to a position of high regard early in the 1963 season, the Arlington Heights track team dominated the high school division of the Will Rogers Indoor Games. Totaling 32 points, the Jackets outdistanced the schoolboy field for the unofficial team title. Outstanding individual performances by several athletes helped give the spotlight to the Heights squad. Versatile Jim Napier placed first in the broad jump and third in the shot put. Don Smith and Stanley Culpepper grabbed the top two places respectively in the mile. Second places were also gained by Ronnie Herriott in the shot and Jim DeWolfe in the 60 yard dash.

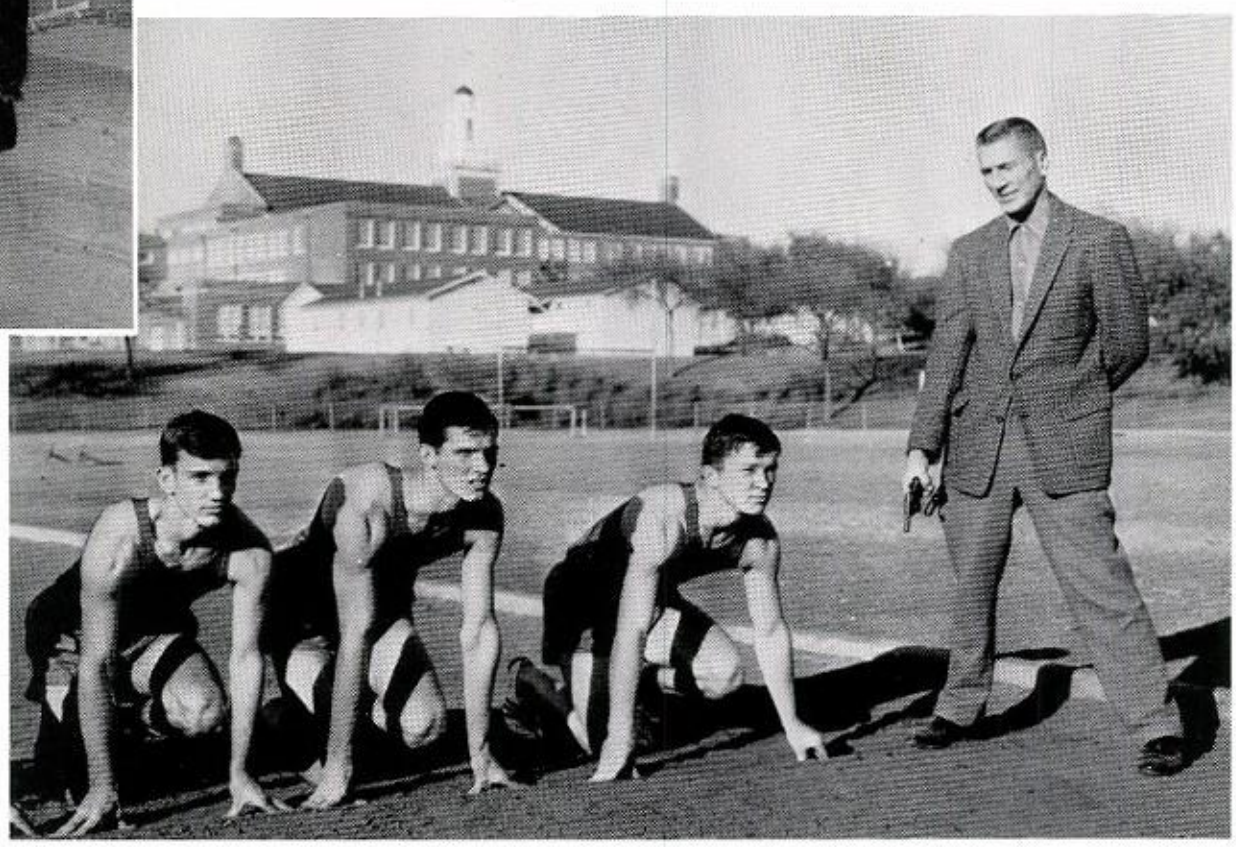
Co-captains Don Smith and Jim Napier accompany Sharon Shive, honored as 1963 Track Queen.



In his second year as track coach at Heights, Don Hood devotes his time to training and instructing in various phases of the school's athletic program. Here he helps sprinters Eddie Baggett, Bob Needham, and Phil Ferguson improve their starts.

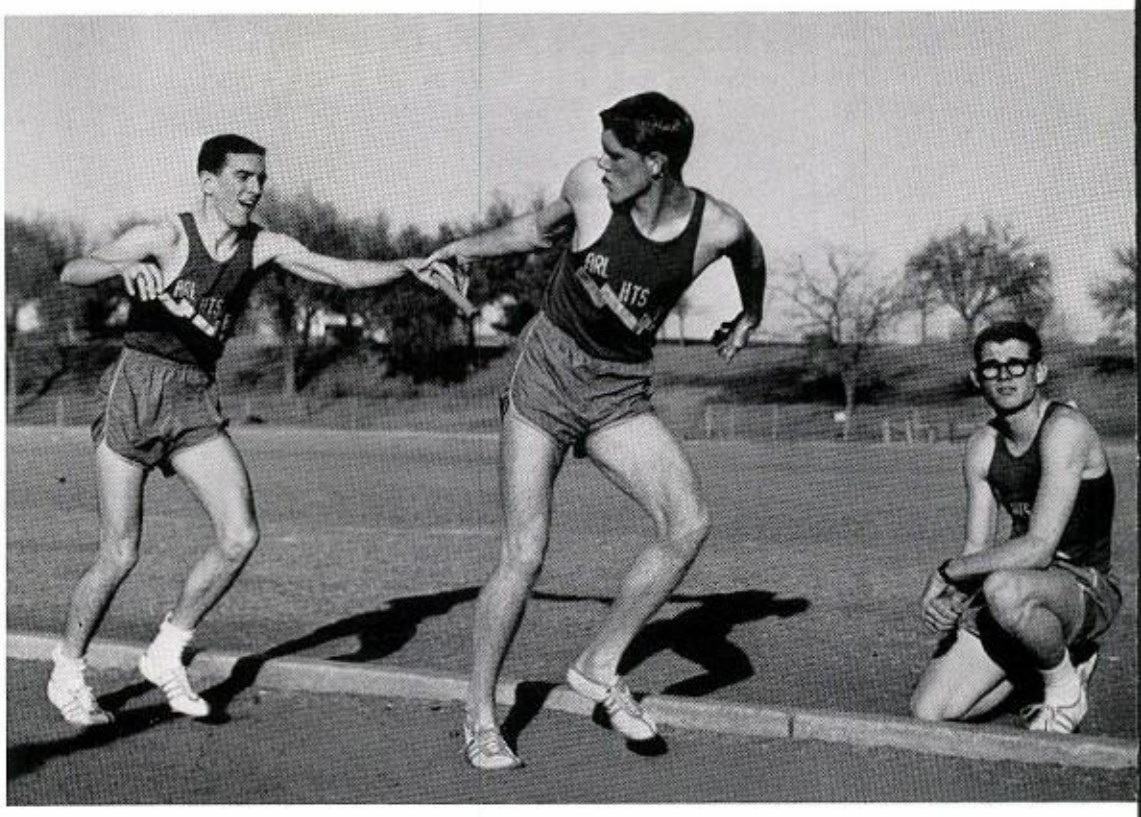
Heights' leading vaulter, Roger Fay, strains to clear the bar.

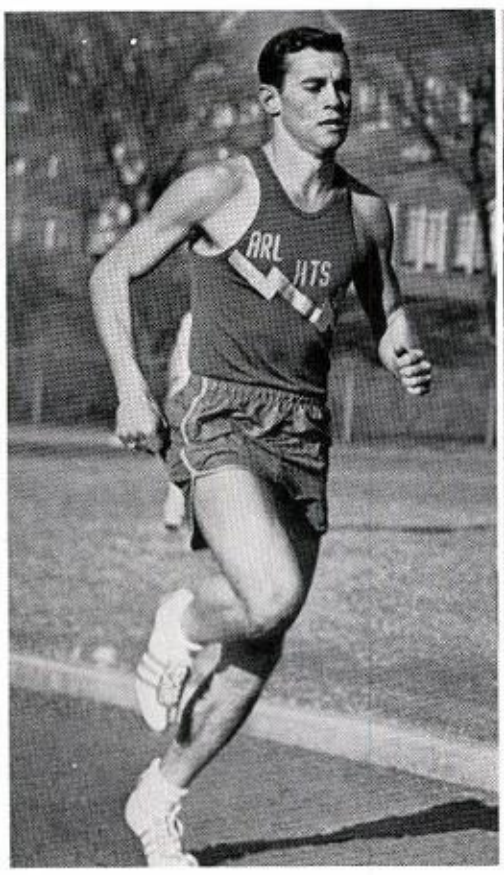


Quartermilers Steve Crow and David Head practice the all-important hand-off unde the eye of Nathan Newburn.

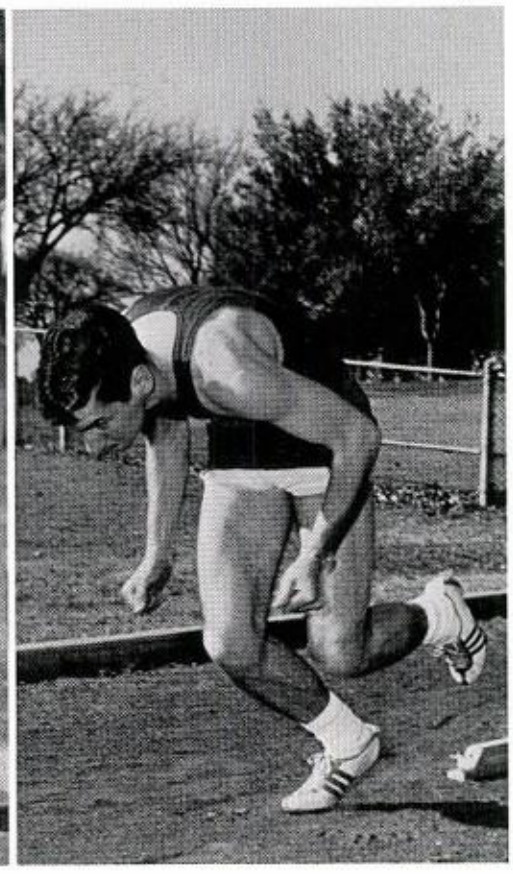
Jackets Shape Up District Track Title

With a reputation for track and field excellence, Heights again displayed an array of talented material in 1963. Under the direction of Coach Don Hood the Jackets set out to regain the district crown which for the past several years had been an annual symbol of Heights' superiority in District 4A-5. Athletes from the Hill, performing individually and as a unit, have earned great respect in their area for their abilities and for the effort put forth in striving for perfection.

Returning district discus champion, Jim Napier, perfects his release during a practice session.



Cross-country and mile run threat, Stanley Culpepper, turns on the steam in the final stretch.



Uncoiling off the blocks, Jim DeWolfe achieves the important split second Start.

James Day clears the high jump bar with room to spare.

Led by Don Smith, Don Craig, and Stanley Culpepper, Heights' cross-country team posted one of the finest records in several years. Flashing to first place in the initial contest of the season, the Jackets went on to place either first or second in four of the five meets where they were represented. A worthy conclusion to the year came as the distance men raced to second place in the State Meet at Austin. Don Smith finished in number two position in an outstanding group of athletes from all parts of the state. Through the year the team collected over twenty-five team and individual trophies and medals.

Dominate District Competition

After seizing three out of four titles the previous spring, the Arlington Heights tennis teams returned with virtually the same personnel for tournament play. The regional doubles champions, Gorski Morrill, form a highly favored duo, as do Sparks—a member of a '62 winning Heights twosome—and Ann Lowdon for the girls.

Charlie Williams and Patty Lowdon—the singles entries—have long been regarded by area players as top-flight competitors.

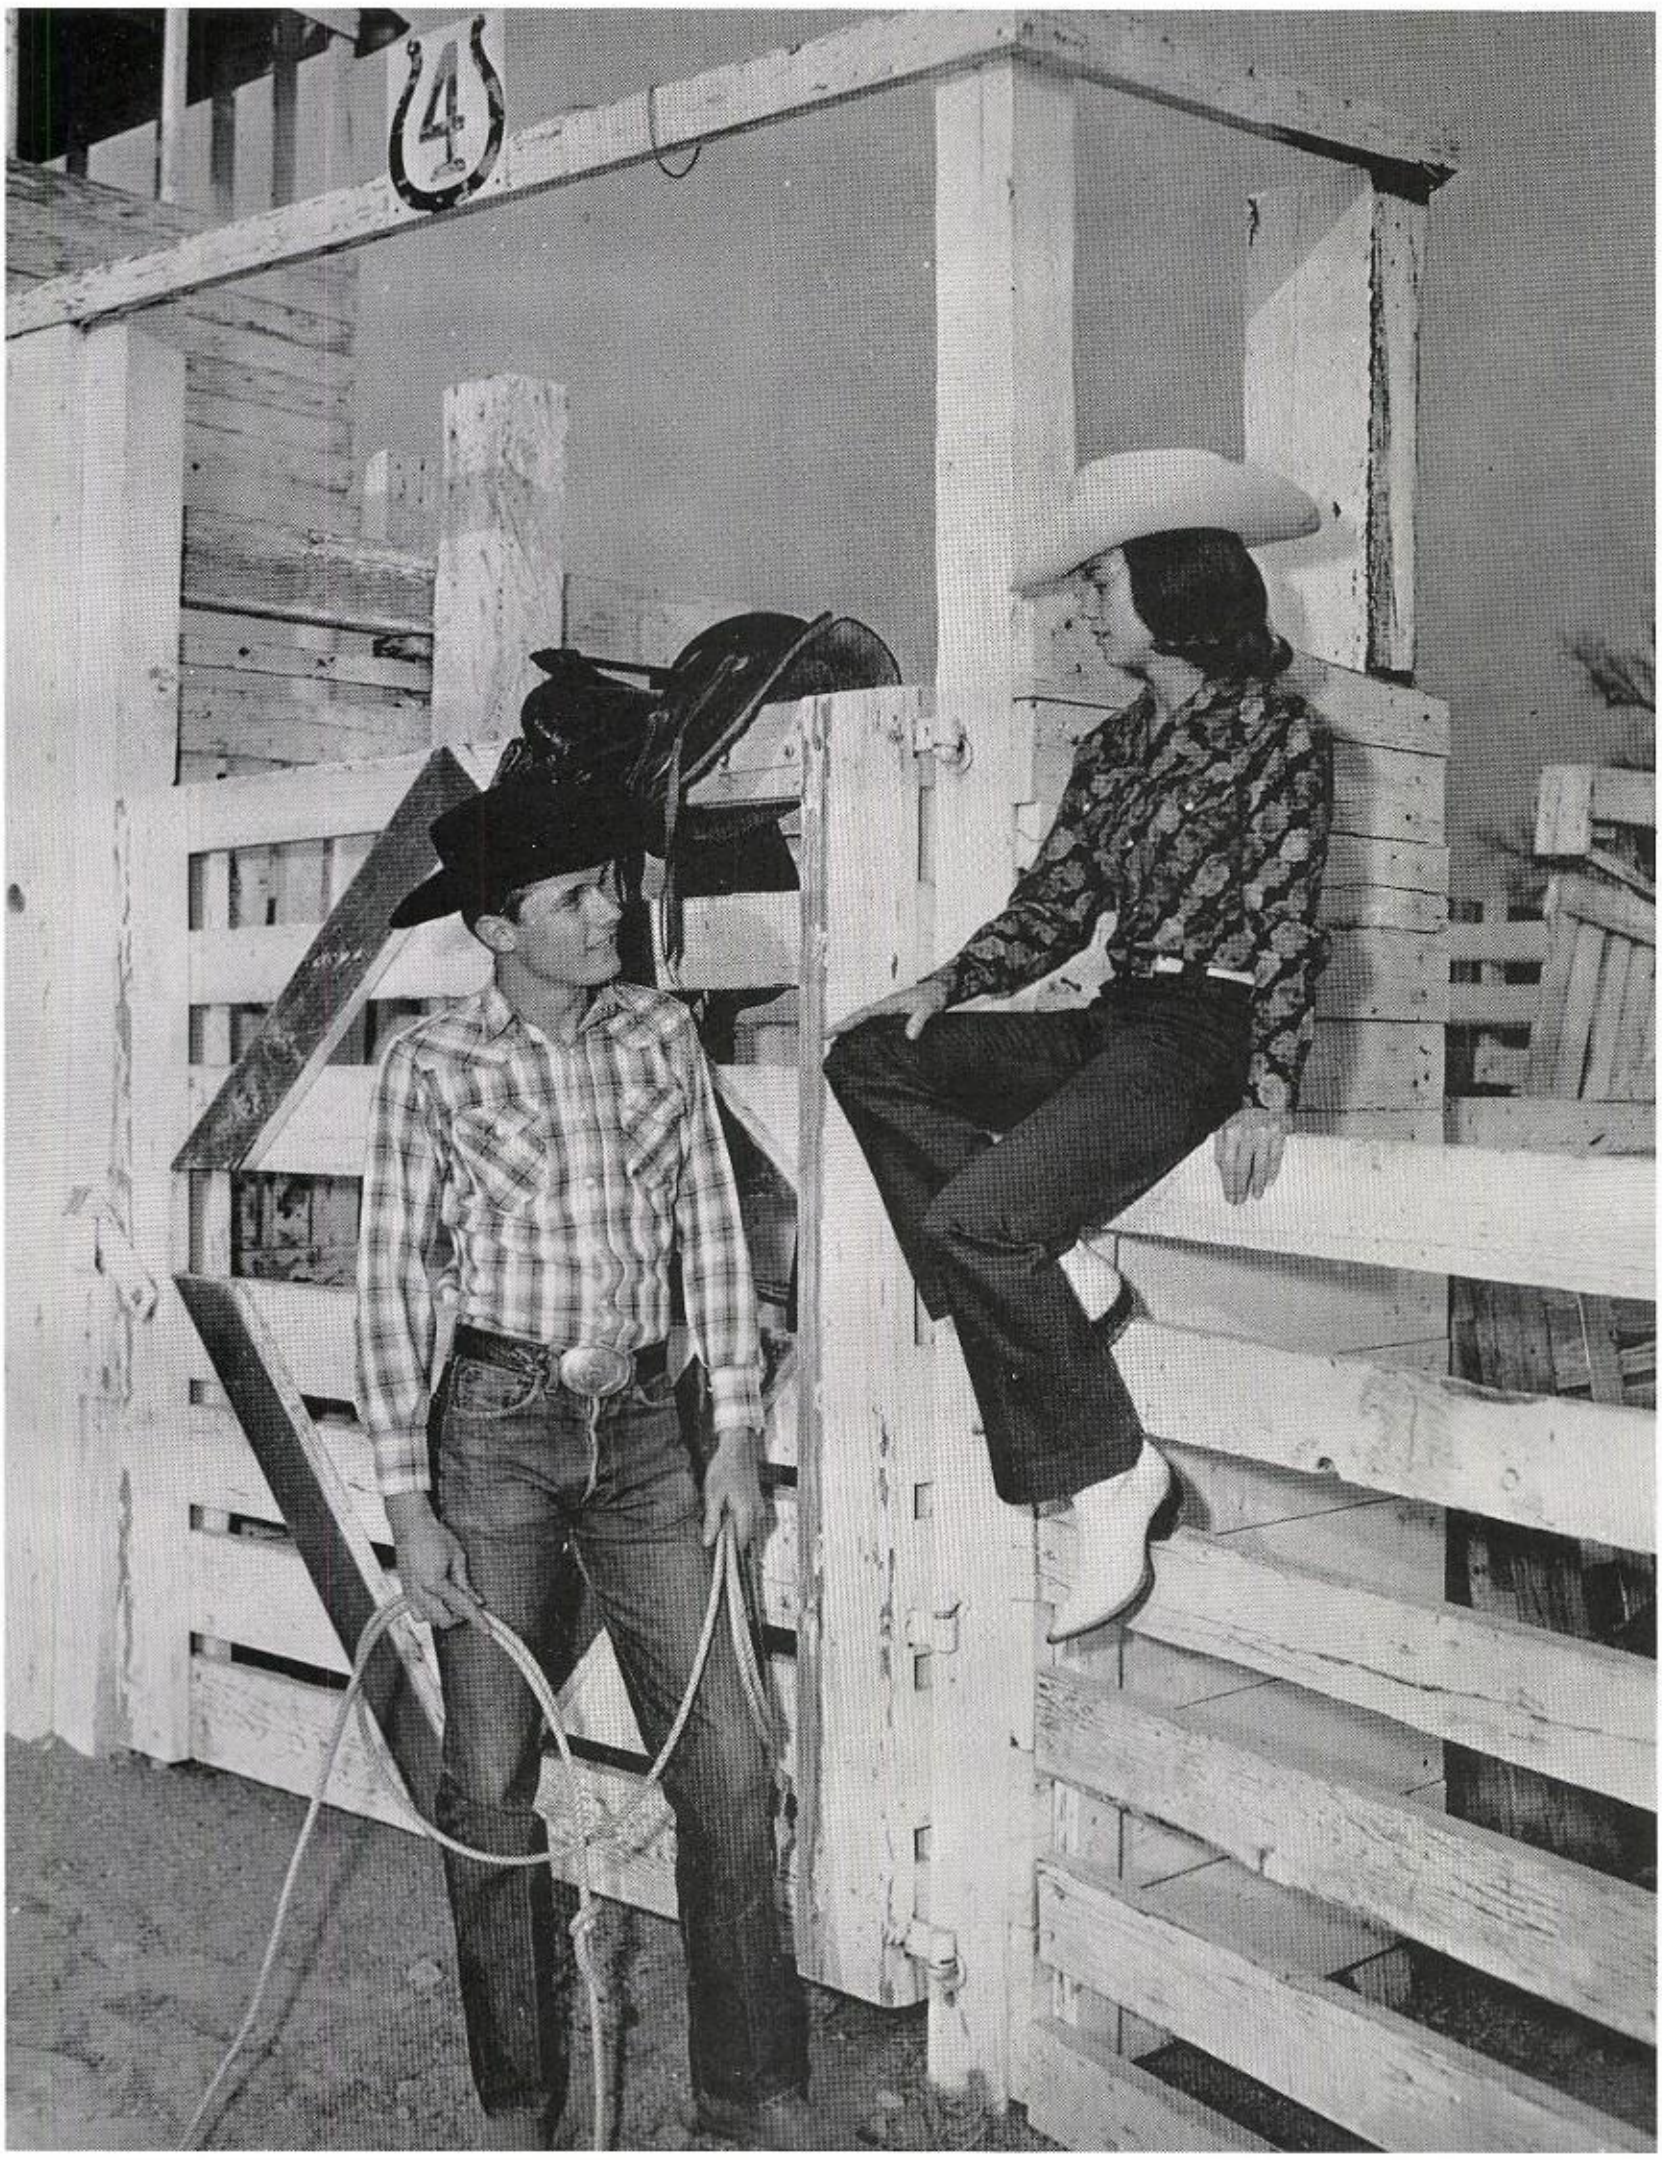
All phases of ranching interest Cliff Stephens, but roping presently commands his time. He practices calf-roping and tying as learned from "Toots" Mansfield, seven times World Champion calf-roper.



Merit Scholarship Finalists

Sandi Michels, Richard Brandt, Jon DeKoker, and Stuart Hutchins were named National Merit Scholarship Finalists. Each student became a semi-finalist by his outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last spring and reached the status of finalist after scoring high on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Nationwide, 11,000 seniors were named Finalists, representing less than one half of one percent of the Class of 1963. Over half the Finalists secure scholarships from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation or outside sources.

For some this year stands apart
As one in which great decisions were made,
Significant goals achieved.
Others, however, anticipate tomorrow
As their time of revelation.
But all of us must keep on looking,
For—no matter how unique—
No single year's experiences
Complete life's SEARCH FOR TRUTH

The Co-editors, Steve Wood and Penny Coughlen, appreciate the fine work of Carol Hubbard, Organizations editor; Martha Trickey, Activities editor; Lynn Melton, Personalities editor; Linda Hutchins, Faculty editor; and David Dalton and Richard Cyrus, Sports editors.

We would also like to thank Senior Class editor, Linda Thayer; Junior Class editor, Laurie Reilly, Sophomore class editors, Pat Sumner and Joe Leverich; Typist, Roxanne Boyd; and Class co-ordinator, Tommy Mulkey.

The excellent photography of Bob Maulsby, Ralph Cordray, Bobby Lyons, and Charles MacFarland deserves special recognition.

We are grateful to our sponsor, Mrs. Oleta Epps, for her guidance in the publication of our book.

Gail,
You're a real sweet girl in my Eng. class. I'm glad we are in a class together this year. Always stay sweet.
Cheryl Sheldon

Gail,
you are a real swell pal. In Biology (you are nuts)
Jimmy (you are nuts)
just wait 'till come along!

Gail,
It's really been fun this year. Too bad things couldn't of worked out with you & Jimmy just think we might have been sister-in-laws. Who knows will still ~~not~~ could be.
Lot of luck with who ever you go with.
God Bless you & keep you.
Love ya
Leanne

Gail,
You're a peculiar girl. I can tell by your unusual personality. You're going to have a very successful life. Don't let your troubles get you down. Keep smiling & keep your friends as cool as you are now.
Always Good Luck
Sincerely
Jerry Jones

Gail,
you are a very cute and sweet girl, and I hope we can always be friends.
Good luck in all you ever do.
David Robinson

Gail,
You're a doll.
I'm so thrilled I got to know you. Hope we both be next 2 years we get to be very friends. Lots of luck in everything you do.
Love,
Betty Lou

Gail,
Sure I sat
to know you
